

Metatron on Bubble Post Conference 6-14-2017

Greetings it is Metatron.

It was important that we meet today. These are very significant and important times that you have gathered together in this physical time, and it was important that we have this conversation, as was the conversation that we had yesterday.

We will be focusing on the Earth service for a little while now and how it correlates with these three templates that were retrieved. As you can see, there is a lot of discussion now about the termination of the Earth. There is a lot of fear. There's a lot of concern and in the coming times, it will even get more intense because the basic concepts of Christianity and those who interpret the Bible from a very basic in their everyday belief system. This also includes all religious doctrines that are in play on the Earth at this time. So this will be magnified as the intenseness of the energies begin to escalate for the evolution demands a reassessment of belief systems. And so you will see it coming from all directions.

The transformational and evolutionary energies are transmitted through the channels of communication that are now open from all realms. The actual frequencies that are being transmitted through the body are extensive and very refined. This stimulates the properties of the energetics that are at that denser level to be magnified. These magnified anomalies are designed to get the attention of those individuals that need to pay attention and that have not to this point. They are required to make different decisions, to think differently, to feel differently, and to react differently. So you are going to see in the next five years of your time a lot of chaos. And so it's very important that this group is very integrated in these light templates and the different functions that they will be required to hold and transmit.

The seven light packets that were placed in the DNA strands in the 2016 conference are still present in their body. They are there for a reason and they are still functioning, actually more so than they were when they were created. And they stimulate the DNA strands beyond those four strands that relate to the physical body. These light packets will be stimulating the body to move into that epikinetic field. So all of those seven light packets in the 12 strand DNA structure are necessary, are functioning, and are providing an opportunity for this group individually to begin to access more of themselves at that divine vast state that they are. In the next few years, many of this group will begin to realize how many iterations are functioning simultaneously in each one of them and in more than one life experience that is going on simultaneously. They will realize that they function in more than one state of consciousness in more than one realm. And so this is why those light packets that were placed specifically in the DNA strands were placed there because the DNA strands that you know very little about have to be awakened. And so at some juncture toward the end of the year we will focus more on that if not, we it we will incorporate that in next year's conference and work with it extensively.

Next year's conference is not so much about opening three time locks. That is yet to be determined if more will be opened at that time. We will be concerned with opening further channels of communication, opening the channels that allow the individuals and the collective consciousness of this group to be elevated to another stratum. So, as I've said, that is yet to be determined. It depends on what happens in the course of the next six months. But that does not lessen the effectiveness of those light packets. And it probably would be a good thing in your discussion to bring that up. This next session will be more conversation, more overview, more review of the various things that happened in the conference and where we go from here. We will briefly touch on a piece of that fifth dimensional template that will be helpful. But then in earnest the first part of July we will start those teachings very directly.

Melainah: So. We've had a discussion over the last few days, this morning included. We feel like with everything going on the planet today, and given what we were able to accomplish this last weekend, and that seventh time lock opening, we have a sense that things are accelerating more than they would have before this weekend.

Metatron: Yes, and when you were in that portal this morning that awareness was very tangible. Every one of these individuals in this collective consciousness has a level of imprints within them that they carry and that they bring to this collective wisdom and pass to this collective consciousness.

Melainah: So This morning when we were at that portal, and we felt like the etheric crystal is transmitting a level of energetics into the grid. The Etheric Crystal was not transmitting these type of energetics before the conference. Is that correct?

Metatron: Yes.

Melainah: And the clearing has begun and is a result of all that occurred in the conference. This is the beginning.

Metatron: Right.

Melainah: Are we correct also in assuming that the beauty of it happening this way, sets these pristine flows of Light energy with preciseness?

Metatron: Exactly, because then it is not contaminated by the individual who is still operating in that third dimensional body.

John: You've mentioned this information or rumor about the world coming to an end. We're concerned but I never heard that communicated. Is that possible?

Metatron: It is not what you think. And I am not here nor would any of the Triads or the Collective Consciousness say. "No, that is totally in error. That will not happen." It is a progression with many iterations and many outcomes. But yes, the Earth as you know it today, in that third dimensional dense state will, at some juncture in the next hundred years of your time no longer exist. But that does not mean that Gaia which is a living entity will not still exist in that living, more refined dimensional state. So those who are capable will shift automatically into that living planetary, Christed planetary dimensional representation.

Melainah: Will we actually shift to a new Earth, or is it a shift in consciousness? Is it more a dimensional and time sequence shift, and a consciousness shift? Rather than to a different Planet?

Metatron: All of what you just said.

Melainah: It is to a different planet?

Metatron: No, no, no.

Melainah: What I said before. OK.

Metatron: Right. But it will cause some major realignments in your solar system and then the gravitational aspects of that.

Melainah: So like, let's say, maybe people in our family who are not conscious and aware-does that mean they will not make the shift and...

Metatron: There is a possibility that they will choose otherwise. But on the whole, unless they are really intent on remaining at that lower frequency range-- you see it's still in play. And so a great portion of these beings who are good loving individuals are just unaware. At a certain juncture, when all of this culminates, they will be swept into that consciousness and it all moves into that other dimensional frequency, and time-space sequence. Those who have very little light, are in opposition to the love element, and any light whatsoever, will be removed and re-processed totally and completely back into the creative vortex. They will cease to exist as that individual emanation because they could not come into the configuration that is needed. So they will go back into the cosmic creative energetic mix.

Melainah: Do you see the beautiful cluster on the table?

Metatron: Yes. a beautiful, crystalline formation. And I think that it will stimulate a great deal of awakening consciousness in the three of you as you share its frequencies. It is a denser emanation of that beautiful light energy but it is a very clear emanation of those frequencies and will stimulate a lot within you.

Melainah: We love it.

Metatron: You know, when you create beauty, a visual physical beauty, it has such benefit to you at that spirit level and re-awakening the fullness of your spirit because it's within the beauty that you visualize, that you connect with that Element of Love.

Melainah: We were talking about Lillinoy yesterday, John and I, trying to get our heads wrapped around who she represents and it just came that she represents that element of beauty.

Metatron: Correct. Correct. She carries that Element of Love but it is expressed in various realms through that beauty, through the beauty of specific realms. So it is an expression that can be felt and known where sometimes humans or individuals have a difficult time maintaining that undifferentiated frequency because it is so refined. But riding in that beauty and the feelings of those higher emotions allows that to be seated differently in the body.

So the energetics of that beautiful emanation is by design and has great purpose.

Melainah: So we're learning more about all of this good stuff. It brings it back down to a different levels and configurations of the elementals, themselves ...

Metatron: Correct.

Melainah: Because they're much more multi-layered than perceived...

Metatron: Yes.

Melainah: The key to all of that is the Element of Love. This is going to be an important part to focus on and reiterate over and over.

Metatron: Correct.

Melainah: That has to be brought into every aspect, everything that we do.

Metatron: Yes.

Melainah: Very conscious so we don't have to think about it anymore. Just like breathing. It's in our awareness all the time.

Metatron: And you see that focus in that flow, shall we say, is a function of that great being that you call Lillinoy and is very much impregnated in your physicality. So as you teach it, as you share it, you hold that physically wherever you walk and wherever you are. It is of great benefit to this group because this is really important. It is an important part of that 5th 6th 7th, especially the seventh dimensional template.

Melainah: So as you're saying then, as we gain more understanding of various aspects of those elementals, and all of those frequencies that we're now just seeing and learning will open us up to another level?

Metatron: Yes. Of course.

Melainah: It's not so black and white. It's all this amusement, all this fluidity. It just softens my perceptions of it.

Metatron: Yes, and it softens the emotions to the value and love of self. Now when the Great White Fire Dragon was present and there was a short discussion on do no harm. This has to start with the individual. This particular configuration of the Element of Love has to come into the body through beauty so that these individuals see the beauty of their spirit. It has nothing to do with the body, but the beauty of what is within. And there will be a lot said about that. Archangel Uriel is a Master of that interior focus, and even though at times you do have communication from that beautiful being, he will be more present in that triadic configuration. He will be more present in the collective consciousness.

Melainah: It is exiting. I'm looking forward to seeing how to bring all of this online and seat it in a more conscious way.

Metatron: Well, with this bubble and all these great beings that have gathered in those channels of communication, they are able to interface with all of the group and stimulate the escalation of consciousness. The transformation happens more quickly in humanity because of that interface within the bubble and within the Star Gates and the inner earth, especially through those luminaries, because they position themselves directly in proximity of that Christed matrix within the Earth. This reflection then replicates itself in the Sacred Heart of each individual and resonates in perfection within their heart. The Sacred Heart matrix of that Christed image is more of the individual expression and the human expression of that. And so this will be an important focus as we go on and work with the elementals because that, as you know already, that reflection from the human counterpart is so important to the elemental community.

Melainah: Looking forward to getting started because there are so many possibilities.

Metatron: Of course, of course and so many different directions that have to be examined at different times. So these next six months will be a very valuable experience within the collective consciousness of this group in this the collective consciousness of this bubble.

Melainah: and the cohesiveness of where the group is right now will make such a difference.

Metatron: Correct.

Blessings Beloveds.
