

Ascended Master Yeshua's Message L1S1 01-17-17

Greetings, Dear Ones. It is I, Yeshua.

I am here as part of your collective consciousness. I am here with you, heart to heart, soul to soul. In this place that we have gathered, there is no separation between me and you. We are unified in beautiful energy of our divine essence.

I wish to speak with you this evening about the foundation of this community, the foundation of this teaching. It is all centered within your Sacred Heart. It is all about the element of love and unity. This is a fifth dimensional template of energy. So as we guide you in this transformative process, it stands to reason that it would be appropriate to create a vessel to hold that fifth dimensional template of love and unity. It is a crucible, a crucible of light, a crucible that holds the template of love.

This template of love is a very creative energy. Actually, love is much more than an emotion. Love is a creative element that you are just learning about. So as we create this crucible, this energetic crucible of love, it holds an alchemical process also. It is significant because it holds the possibility of altering the physical body taking it out of that third dimensional dense state into the fifth dimension, engaging with the light body to manifest more firmly in the physicality.

There are two centers that are very important in this crucible, parts of your physicality. One is your heart, your Sacred Heart and the second one is the pineal where you draw in light. And it's within that pineal center that the undifferentiated light of Source is made applicable through your creative energies. It is always merged with the flame in the heart; and it is through the element of fire that the lower dimensional states are transformed into more refined energies of light.

So in the crucible that we will create together, the crucible relates to you as the individual creator, divine creator. But it also relates to the collective consciousness of this group. So it is all expansive. It is unified within you as the individual and simultaneously as a collective consciousness. This element of love is so important, Dear Ones. It changes everything. It changes your consciousness. It alters your mental-emotional body bringing more unity into that body which is your creative force to manifest in the physical world. It allows you in this transformative process, when you are working with old patterns, transforming them into light, to have love and compassion for yourself, to forgive yourself for past transgressions through ignorance.

Mostly these transgressions or missing the mark were through ignorance. So it's important to not judge yourself as these things surface continually throughout this process of transformation. They are there to be released and transformed into light. So it's important that you always remain within your sacred crucible of love, having great love for yourself, respect and value and love for others who are also changing and transforming.

So if you will take a deep breath and be with me now as together we create this beautiful crucible of light.

Direct your attention to your crown center. See it open wide to receive Source energy directed into the pineal center where it begins to create a flame in the pineal - very potent light energy.

Now take your attention into your heart, your Sacred Heart, your heart chakra and notice that that same beautiful Source light is present there and there is a beautiful flame also within that chakra. As the two flames merge into one beautiful flame of light, engage the element of fire and begin to create this beautiful crucible of light energy that has no limitation, no restriction, no boundary, but it's a vast crucible that will hold, from this moment forward, all of your creative energy to be made applicable in your physical expression and in the transformation of your body, the body's consciousness and the consciousness of your soul.

Within this crucible, within your Sacred Heart, take a deep breath and feel the presence of the Holy Spirit. Feel the love of the Holy Spirit for truly it is the Source energy that is never divided- perfectly unified with divine masculine and divine feminine qualities. Many of you will feel the initial energy of that Holy Spirit and recognize it as feminine. And it is that because of the fluidity, the creativeness and the love that is always, always balanced with that divine masculine that can be directed efficiently and precisely to manifest in your physical life. The Holy Spirit can never be divided, just always unified and it is always in perfect love. Take a deep breath and know yourself as unified with the Holy Spirit in this beautiful energetic crucible that we have just created together.

I ask that you go there daily to familiarize with the vastness of this energy, to familiarize yourself with the immenseness of your soul spirit energy. Get to know yourself in this unified state of consciousness that is ever present and is indwelling within you. It is never outside of you. It is an indwelling presence that is within you.

Sit with me for a moment longer.
