

Greetings, it is I Metatron.

I come as an individualized expression of the Lord of Light so that we might discuss many things. You have many questions. The energetics that are now in play are extensive and by having the magnetics piece activated to a degree, although it is not fully activated yet because we have only retrieved a part of the templates that are involved in those magnetics. There are many templates within the time locks that were positioned at the fall of consciousness to be held until this time. The full extent of those magnetics and how they operate will not be known until that time when another template is retrieved. The current template and the current time lock that has been opened has a lot of energetics that you need to know about and there is also a lot of information in regard to the magnetics and how they are applied and how they can be made usable.

So that said, let us begin our conversation invite you to speak and also to begin asking your questions

John: The meeting on the 28th is to check in to see how Kryon did with the magnetics on this fourth time lock, so can you give us an update?

Metatron: Yes, I have given you some information already about what it is and how it is applied. Yeshua discussed with the Seating the Divine collective some of the magnetic uses. The magnetic template that was retrieved from the time lock allows a vaster expression and creative ability as they are drawn from that 6th dimension and also applied in the fifth dimension. These magnetics bring a level of precision because of the energetics of it and because they relate to this Source energy that is contained in the 10th Ray of Creation.

So in addition to holding the stability of the 5th dimensional light template, it also provides the fluidity that is necessary as you navigate 5th dimension and create without limitation. It cannot be a rigid application as it was in the third and fourth dimension where these types of magnetics were not available.

The magnetics that were available were very static and polarized. They were rigid and they were also very, very stable. Those types of magnetics are what held the Earth together amidst all of the cataclysms that took place at the end of the Atlantean period.

The denser magnetics assisted the tectonic plates to come into a level of coherence. There was this vast upheaval, a sinking of a continent, great flooding, great turmoil all over the Earth, and vast changes in the complexity of the actual physical Earth. Earth was able to maintain its physicality instead of totally disintegrating. This was because of the very rigid polarized magnetics that were put in place by Sanat Kumara and the great Lords of Light that came to Earth's rescue. These magnetics enabled the Earth to maintain its physicality instead of totally disintegrating as those tectonic plates deep within the earth opened great chasms. It allowed a stability to hold the Earth together even though it was, you might call cracking in multiple directions and multiple ways deep, deep into the earth as well as on the surface.

So this is a type of magnetics that you have known for eons of time since that final cataclysmic event. The magnetics that are now present are new types of magnetics that bring in that unity expression of Source energy, but also provide a fluid expression within the creative mechanism as things are created on Earth.

They are not static, but they are very flexible changeable, without a lot of disruption. These magnetics also help humanity to create with their mental-emotional body with greater precision because they begin to direct their thoughts and emotions more precisely because the magnetics that are in play.

So this was a wonderful occurrence that happened.

John: The Kryon group had a mission. Did they complete it? Was there anything for us to follow up on?

Metatron: Yes, the Kryon collective was already opening those magnetics templates prior to the actual gathering and that continued throughout that gathering. There were no anomalies created and because there was no interference, that 5th dimensional light template could be maintained in its wholeness. That is important for you to recognize because it is in the presence of that 5th dimensional light template that this group facilitated the magnetics to be adhered without causing any wobble in the energetic expression regardless of the consciousness of the many who gathered recently, and regardless of the consciousness of those who live in the area. It was very precisely positioned and because the beginning stages of those magnetics were beginning to be put in place prior to this Kryon large event, there was a great stablyness achieved but yet there was a fluid expression of light energy that was very necessary to hold the integrity of that 5th dimensional light template. Light can never be static, it is always fluid in its expression, in its creation. It is always moving whether it be in a wave or particles. In order to have many expressions, there has to be fluidity in that expression. So that magnetics piece was a very important piece because it allows the integrity of that light template to stay intact.

And it was not disturbed.

John: Thank you

Melainah: Metatron, can you clarify for me, the new magnetics that are being placed, so it's a magnetic template is what you just said, so does that differ from our concept of electromagnetics grid of the planet which is now dissolving?

Metatron: you have to understand that the electromagnetic grid is not dissolving. It is being dramatically altered. The magnetics have been in the process of alteration for some years of your time so that it can maintain a certain stablyness as humanity is required to change and as certain Earth changes occur. That stability also has that fluid element to it to help maintain the integrity of the electrical impulses that are constantly been created through human thought. It alters the way in which the emotions are made usable because the consciousness is being altered and expanded.

The electromagnetic field of the body and of Earth is not being eliminated. It is being altered substantially and you need to understand that. If it were removed totally, Earth would have a total disintegration because it wouldn't be able to be held within its orbit and all of the gravitational parts of maintaining a certain orbit within the solar system could not be maintained. There would be great cataclysm within the solar system and also within Earth itself.

Melainah: So are the new magnetics, besides being placed into the Earth, are they also being placed into electromagnetic grid to alter it as well?

Metatron: Oh, most definitely.

Melainah: That's what I wasn't clear as to whether it was it going away and we're creating new one to take its place -but we're not, we are actually altering the energetics and the frequency of that current electromagnetics grid.

Metatron: Correct. The new 5th, 6th dimensional magnetics alter the way that humans create. These magnetics assist humanity to come into a much different state of consciousness and therefore they do not create so much polarization and negativity unconsciously through fear or through division. They begin to draw things together in a much different function so that the integrity of that 5th dimensional template can be maintained as humans create. They begin to hold unity consciousness more stably. The heart begins to open and stay open. So therefore, with the love and unity energetics of the fifth dimensional template, you have a different set of emotions that are made usable. Because of the energetics that are in play of those 5th dimensional light templates and the magnetics, humanity is not constantly reverting to that 3rd- 4th dimensional state through fear and separation. They begin to see very clearly that they are all connected. What they do and what they create has an effect, not just on themselves but on others.

So this is the beauty and the value that is beginning to take place because of this 5th and 6th dimensional template that was retrieved, and even though it was retrieved months ago, it took work to make it usable in the life expression and to also to create enough light energy to allow this 6th dimensional template to open and be made usable. It just wasn't a concept.

Melainah: Ok. So the electromagnetic grid has been holding the stability of a third dimension in place.

Metatron: Correct.

Melainah: Ok. So now as we apply in the magnetics, the light frequencies from the 5th -6th-7th dimensional templates, then is actually what it is about, not the grid itself, but what was held in that third dimensional frequency is what is dissolving.

Metatron: Correct. There is an aspect as it dissolves, in the presence of the templates, these 5th 6th 7th dimensional templates that were retrieved. The vaster expression of humanity that is still in an unawakened state comes from that fourth dimension which has a little bit more fluidity to add it. It opens the mind to accept change. To see that what was created previously is not appropriate. It is no longer useful in creating a life expression that brings peace and harmony. It brings upheaval.

The electrical components are very much in play now within the neurology of the body so that the mind begins to open and is drawn by these magnetics into a function that replicates Source energy or the higher mind, the universal mind of Source energy. And that's the value of the magnetics and in that presence of those types of magnetics, the electrical field is changed. The electrical component in the neurology of the body is altered substantially so the brain can process more complex thought that relate to the 5th6th7th dimensional light templates

In addition to altering the consciousness, you are altering the body in the presence of these electrical and magnetic energies that are held in that 5th6th7th dimension, those templates that you retrieved. Even in their beginning stages these templates provide an opening to use vaster portions of the brain and process thought differently.

Melainah: So even our scientists have been saying in recent times that the electromagnetic field of the earth is weakening. So as these new magnetics in the templates become more stabilized and more energetics are brought in, will we be and at some point in the future see a more stabilizing of the electromagnetic field itself that will be measurable by our scientists?

Metatron: Correct. But it will be in a different configuration that is not understood by the scientific community because it must hold a very fluid expression all the while bringing a coherent merging of the electrical and the magnetic field of the earth. The rigidity is being eliminated. It appears that that field is weakening. It's just being altered to a different configuration and the scientific community has not yet come into an understanding of that, nor has developed the equipment to monitor it and register it. But that should begin to happen as they see that field weakening but they don't see any visible changes in any other way-- either an alteration of the earth orbit or any wobble in that orbit or in the way in which the axis of the earth is positioned. There have been alterations there, but not to a great extent. So there is a curiosity that scientists have that will push them into these discoveries because they realize that if that electric magnetic field is totally eliminated then earth would also have a great cataclysm and fall out of orbit.

Melainah: the metaphysical community is usually on the leading edge and science somewhat falls years behind and eventually validates most of what we've already known to be true.

Metatron: Correct. Now I will say this, that the present orbit of earth will, because of the alterations that will be made in the next 50 years of your time, will begin to shift its orbit and in such a way that it will not cause a great cataclysm but because a new type of magnetics are available there will be of great fluid ease in that movement.

Melainah: Metatron, as we continue on working with the activation of the planetary merkaba, will that accelerate the altering of the electromagnetics grid?

Metatron: Yes, it will. and it will amplify the vibration of the planetary merkaba therefore we will alter substantially because of the energetics that are emanating from Earth itself at that vaster level will alter further the electromagnetic field but it will also bring a great coherency within that electromagnetic field because there is a resonance that is being established through these magnetics and these electrical currents that come from that 5th dimensional light template. So, there are great changes that will occur

Melainah: And so with these new magnetics being in place, it would seem that that would have a stabilizing effect not only on our own the planetary merkaba, but also our personal one just as well.

Metatron: Correct. It will stabilize the light frequency but also add to it great fluidity. So that manifestation comes with ease, it comes instantly. Thoughts and emotions operate as a unit. And the lower emotions become inactive, not used.

Melainah: I can see that as time goes on and we talk more about this, we're going to have a conversation about these magnetics on that the applications are just limitless

Metatron: Yes, they are. So you have just begun uncovering one magnetic template, opening one 6th dimensional time lock and one template and made it usable. So this is the beauty of this Seating of the Divine group and the Grid Master group because they are the ones that will bring the usability of the electric-magnetic codes into the creative process through their mind, their thinking process, the neurology of their body, and also through the magnetics that relate in some way but not totally, but also have an effect on the way the emotions are used. What humanity has not understood for very, very long time that many beings from other planetary systems, from other solar systems, from other star systems they were perceived as not having any emotion and that is not true. They are thinking beings and have a great capacity to create wonderful things scientifically, as well as at a spiritual level and they just do not have available to them the level of denser the emotion. It does not exist in their reality.

The Acturians have totally eliminated that from their reality so they are misunderstood in regards to the use of emotions because they do not in that state of consciousness understand a third dimension or fourth dimensional use of the emotions in the body and the complete disruption that takes place in the body because of it.

Melainah: That's interesting. That's an interesting way to think about it in those the terms – that they process emotions in a much different way than we do, at a higher frequency level so they are not caught up in and effected by the emotions as we are still in our current human form.

Metatron: Correct and that is why they can maintain a state of longevity because on the physical side, the pressure and the anomalies are not created within the body because there is this presence, a very beautiful fluid light and magnetics that are constantly at play in their creation and it enhances the body, the physicality.

Melainah: That gives you a whole new way to think about emotions and how it does play on the body and draw from the body.

Metatron: For years, you have been studying healing technologies that relate to your thoughts and your emotions and certain organs that are very depleted because of certain emotions that are used consistently, how that disturbs the functioning of certain parts of the body

Melainah: Yeah and even though the intellectual concept that we've heard looking at that in hearing that now with the availability of these new more refined templates in place, gives it a whole new level of understanding. So that's very, very interesting.

Metatron: So here you have to look to the bigger picture of what has to be change. We spoke of how the neurology is being changed, how the physiology is being changed and upgraded to more fifth dimensional state, upgrading the vibration of the body; and this psychology is changing and that is brought about through the alterations that must be made within the emotions.

So in the order for the physical human body to become a vehicle to navigate a multidimensional expression in form, these three things must be paid attention to: the physiology, the neurology and the psychology, for it is in the beliefs, in the emotions as well as the thoughts that create the disruption and the deterioration in physicality. So if all three of those things operate together, one cannot evolve if the other two components are not evolving or if the energetics available to those parts of the being are not addressed and altered.

So this is what is happening now with these time locks opening and with these four templates that are available. You have the availability of light frequencies of the 5th, 6th, 7th dimension; you have the magnetics of the 5th, 6th, 7th dimension available to begin to make those changes in the body, in the neurology and in the psychology.

So the fact that these magnetics are very fluid Source magnetics, they alter the neurology and the psychology and the physiology of the body substantially because the brain begins to process thought differently. The emotions evoke a different response and the creation done in a very fluid but conscious, directed state that brings about more precision as life is created in form.

Melainah: and we're just getting started. That's a whole new world. That's a lot and I thank you for all of that. That's clarifying and you know and it speaks to a lot of things that are just now beginning to come into our awareness to ask the questions, so thank you.
