Joyce Dillon is a life purpose and entrepreneurial business coach, that works with individuals and entrepreneurs who want to get clarity on purpose, and create a visionary life plan for manifesting their life and or business. She offers a life purpose quiz to jump start the process and a popular Living Your Life Purpose blog.

Joyce specializes in working with individuals, small business and entrepreneurs who are in the Health & Wellness industry such as therapists, nurses, nurse practitioners, acupuncturists, wellness coaches, spas, wellness tourism, magazines, etc.

She integrates intuitive painting and meditation in her coaching, retreats, and trainings to help facilitate a breakthrough in bigger thinking and in learning how to tap into intuition and inner wisdom.

Joyce is a highly qualified transformational expert, well-trained and certified in a variety of health, wellness and business areas including entrepreneurial business, marketing, mind/body medicine, wellness coaching, alternative nursing, psychology, and creativity.

Joyce has extensive experience as a master level nurse working as a clinical director and nurse consultant of several mental health programs in Manhattan and Atlanta.

While in Manhattan, Joyce started a New York Destination Management company that created travel and incentive programs and specialized in wellness travel.

Joyce has worked with countless individuals, organizations and major corporations such as Kellogg, Subaru, and The Carter Presidential Center. Her success earned her the opportunity to work with the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta.

For the third time, Joyce relocated and transformed herself, from a New York businesswoman into an Atlanta entrepreneur.

in the late-90's, Joyce's mental health nursing experience, plus her experience in psychology, wellness coaching, and women empowerment studies enabled her to launch one of Atlanta's first holistic wellness centers to empower people to make change in their mind, body and spirit.

Today, Joyce provides life purpose and business coaching, sessions, workshops, and retreats to individuals, leaders and entrepreneurs. She is also in the process of opening a creativity center that will teach intuitive painting and other forms of creativity.
