

By sea, by feet or by bike must you wander this city.

this humble guide limits itself to places within a short distance from where you'll be staying. a bit of local knowledge, includes some sentimental favorites.

Kongens Have

Park
splendid park. stand by large plum trees near footbridge to castle (see: <https://www.flickr.com/gp/christiansvan/eskolding/vj2P3C>) - i proposed to estrada here.
Gothersgade, København

Bjerg Van Mackelenbergh

Jewelry
basement shop on pilestræde with irregular hours, where our friend henrik & i designed adriana's wedding ring. if he's there, say hi! miss that sweet fussy man.

Frederiks Kirke (Marmorkirken)...

Church
if it's a grey day in the middle of the week, then step inside the 'marble church.' it doesn't rank amongst world's best, but it oozes character and mystery.

Frederiksgade 4, København

Den Britiske Ambassade

Government
just east of british embassy is a cold war remnant once known as the "ho chi minh trail." a tiny alleyway hosted much intrigue as US & russian embassies nearby.

Kastelsvej 36-40, København

døp

Hot Dogs
danish hot dogs are so delicious yet they're grossly artificial. not these, however. this is truly good organic danish street food! get one with "det hele."

Storm

Shop
when you feel like being a snob and want to do that hipster shopping thing. similar to the colette store in paris. not everything is overpriced.

Store Regnegade 1, København

Designmuseum Danmark

Art Museum
formerly known as kunstindustrimuseet. love the ancient building that houses the museum. collection + rotating exhibits on design + industrial design are solid.

Bredgade 68, København

Hija de Sánchez

Tacos
crazy to recommend a taco joint in copenhagen but rosio sanchez is something else! a NOMA protege, she moved to KBH after we left but filled a much needed void.

Studenterhuset

Bar
go more for tucker's daughter than anything else. genuine student bar that has its good nights, believe it or not. worth seeing to understand her student life.
Købmagergade 52, København K

Tranquebar

Bookstore
travel books, espressos, lattes & music. you know how this works. good rainy day escape, close to your place. name refers to former danish colony in india.

Borgergade 14, København
+45 33 12 55 12

Nordre Toldbod

Harbor / Marina
more waypoint than destination - but from here you can catch (or arrive on) the harbor bus (ie the city ferry). walk north to langelinie, or west on esplanaden.

Nordre Toldbod, København K

Alice

Music Venue
named after alice coltrane and alice in wonderland, this venue replaced the legendary copenhagen jazzhouse - opening up in a new venue on nørre allé. promising!

Øster Farimagsgade 12, København

Bo-Bi Bar

Dive Bar
i miss this place so much. a dumpy dive bar where academics & journalists hang out for robust late night arguments. probably still beer & wine only + cash only.
Klareboderne 14, København K
+45 33 12 55 43

Restaurant Koefoed

Scandinavian
expense account kind of place. high-end meals. consistently named amongst most highly regarded restaurants in the city. the chef is one of DK's culinary stars.

Landgrevn 3, København

Kastellet

Historic Site
we lived close enough to jog on these rampsarts a few times a week. when homesick, adriana occasionally went to nearby st. albans church. find gefionspringvandet

Kastellet 68, København Ø

Aamanns Etablissement

Scandinavian
amongst my favorite places for lunch for bona fide smørrebrød, very close to where adriana & i lived. fyi, check out 'kartoffelrækkerne,' the nearby rowhouses.
