

Stuck Inside of Brooklyn with the Small town Blues Again

A guide for your small town urges. Cobble Hill, Boerum Hill and Carroll Gardens only, with a loving glance at Red Hook. Focus on local joints. Updated for 2015.

Dec 2015

Christian Svanes Kolding
jauntful.com/svanes

©OpenStreetMap contributors, ©Mapbox, ©Foursquare

Brooklyn Social

Cocktail
eleven dollar cocktails, properly made. if isiah is behind the bar, then you are in luck. there's a garden in the back. avoid on friday or saturdays. cash only.

335 Smith St, Brooklyn
(718) 858-7758 brooklynsocialbar.com

Brucie

Italian
they are deceptively adept at articulating texture and flavor through their vibrant yet 'simple' dishes. really good craft. warm environment though a bit noisy.

234 Court St, Brooklyn
(347) 987-4961 brucienyc.com

Brooklyn Farmacy & Soda

Ice Cream
on the list because they stand out for doing something different: an old fashion soda parlor. competes with chocolate room on court street for my affection.
513 Henry St, Brooklyn
(718) 522-6260
brooklynfarmacyandsodafountain.com

La Slowteria

Mexican
chef hugo creates exquisite high-end mexican fare, humbly served in a space that evokes a gulf coast palapa. fun and relaxed. garden in the back.

548 Court St, Brooklyn
(718) 858-2222 laslowteria.com

Sign up on Jauntful.com to make your own.

Black Mountain Wine House

Wine Bar
with its dim lighting and a tiny woodburning stove in the back, it feels a bit like a journey into civil war america. relaxed, comfortable fare done with flair.

415 Union St, Brooklyn
(718) 522-4340 blackmountainwinehouse.com

Hibino

Japanese
a mom and pop kind of place, run by sons and daughters. elegant, simple, hearty. they've been a mainstay in the neighborhood for some time now. deservedly so.

333 Henry St, Brooklyn
(718) 260-8052 hibino-brooklyn.com

Gowanus Yacht Club

Beer Garden
when jerry bagel was the owner, his colorful staff kept customers happy and provocatively entertained on summer nights. he died and with it a bit of the vibe.
323 Smith St, Brooklyn
(718) 246-1321 facebook.com/pages/Gowanus-Yacht-Club/296129305951

Petite Crevette

Seafood
provençal cuisine. chef & owner is a volatile croat who once threw a lobster at an obnoxious customer. cash only, excellent stews, seafood, cosy atmosphere.

144 Hicks St, Brooklyn
(718) 855-2632

The Brooklyn Inn

Bar
salty dogs work the bar but run a tight ship. no fancy cocktails here. excellent juke box. almost every one in this bar deems themselves a writer or an actor.

148 Hoyt St, Brooklyn
(718) 522-2525

The Long Island Bar

Cocktail
you go here for the décor and a well-made cocktail, and perhaps some finger food. they're good at that. don't stay long because it can get annoyingly crowded.

110 Atlantic Ave, Brooklyn
(718) 625-8908 thelongislandbar.com

Black Gold Brooklyn

Record Shop
records, taxidermy, coffee. sommer is often behind the counter. she's a bona fide, hard-working, sweet-natured DIY-punk jersey girl. drip coffee only.

461 Court St, Brooklyn
(347) 227-8227

Jalopy Tavern

Bar
a knee-slapping, banjo picking kind of establishment. their mint juleps are pretty decent, i must say.

317 Columbia St, Brooklyn
(718) 625-3214 jalopytavern.biz

Cafe Pedlar

Coffee Shop
if concerned about the quality of your espresso drink, then you should go here. you'll encounter 28 strollers inside, but the cortados are the best in the area.

210 Court St, Brooklyn
(718) 855-7129 cafepedlar.com

La Cigogne

French
an unpretentious space to satisfy your cravings for spätzle. made by hand each day, the menu always features three or four variations. there's a fireplace too.

215 Union St, Brooklyn
(718) 858-5641 lacigognenyc.com

Frankies 457 Spuntino

Italian
there's overlap between prime meats and frankies: same owners, similar farmer chic modus operandi, but only frankies excels. they've stayed true to their roots.

457 Court St, Brooklyn
(718) 403-0033 frankiesspuntino.com