Juggernaut
Freedom Five
© Copyright 2016 WebWord, LLC. All Rights Reserved. This guide may not be reproduced or transmitted in any form without the written permission of the publisher. Every effort has been made to make this guide as complete and accurate as possible. Although the author and publisher have prepared this guide with the greatest of care, and have made every effort to ensure the accuracy, we assume no responsibility or liability for errors, inaccuracies or omissions. Before you begin, check with the appropriate authorities to insure compliance with all laws and regulations.

Every effort has been made to make this report as complete and accurate as possible. However, there may be mistakes in typography or content. Also, this report contains information on online marketing and technology only up to the publishing date. Therefore, this report should be used as a guide – not as the ultimate source of Internet marketing information.

The purpose of this report is to educate. The author and publisher does not warrant that the information contained in this report is fully complete and shall not be responsible for any errors or omissions. The author and publisher shall have neither liability nor responsibility to any person or entity with respect to any loss or damage caused or alleged to be caused directly or indirectly by this report, nor do we make any claims or promises of your ability to generate income by using any of this information.
Welcome to Freedom Five Lesson 5!

The time has come for you to make your very own Fiverr Account! Let’s do this!

Note: As soon as you create an account and specify that you are going to be a Seller (rather than a buyer), Fiverr will ask you some questions, and then immediately prompt you to “Start Selling” and provide a button that will take you to the Gig Creation page.

I’ll repeat the advice that I mentioned in the previous chapter (for the benefit of those who are skipping around chapters!) - it’s a good idea to read through both the Creating an Account and Creating a Gig chapters BEFORE you create your account, so you can have material prepared – a cover image, and at least two PDF samples of your work if not more, and an idea of in which Category and Sub-category you’ll place your initial gig.

Especially, create an account at a free site called Portfolio.com (created by Adobe), and upload samples of your work there. You can then link this site to your Fiverr account when prompted.

SUGGESTION – so important that it’s in all caps!
IF YOU ARE A NEW WRITER AND HAVE NO PORTFOLIO, DO SOME RESEARCH ON CERTAIN POPULAR SUBJECTS AND WRITE UP FIVE OR SIX SAMPLE 200-WORD ARTICLES TO USE IN YOUR PORTFOLIO UNTIL YOU CAN ADD ACTUAL WORK!

Create your account

Go to Fiverr.com and click on the Join button.
You will be prompted to enter your email, then create a user name (between 10 and 15 characters long), and a password.

Have a few ideas for your username already crafted – sometimes your name has already been taken. (For example, BestWriter and YourBestWriter are gone!)

Then check your email inbox. Fiverr will send you an email, and you'll need to click on the embedded link to activate your account.

When you click on the verification button you are brought back to the Fiverr account page.

The first thing you'll see, in the center of your screen, is a button that says Start Selling.
If you go to your username (bolded and in the far right of the black bar at the top of your screen) you'll see a dropdown box which includes Start Selling link. [Once you've created your first Gig, this dropdown box will show you different options – for checking your sales and so on. I'll cover this later on in the book.]

Click on the Start Selling button in the middle of the screen. You will then have to fill out a series of questions.

Once you've answered those you are all set! Time to make money!