

Do You Have the Right People Around Your Most Important Goal?

THE 5-MINUTE NETWORK LANDSCAPE

Discover whether your network is helping you move toward what matters most - and where opportunities may be waiting.

Your Network Landscape

Your network is a living system. Some relationships are helping you move forward. Others may need attention. And there may be important people you haven't yet considered.

Think about one goal that matters to you. Then use these nine questions to explore how well your current network supports it.

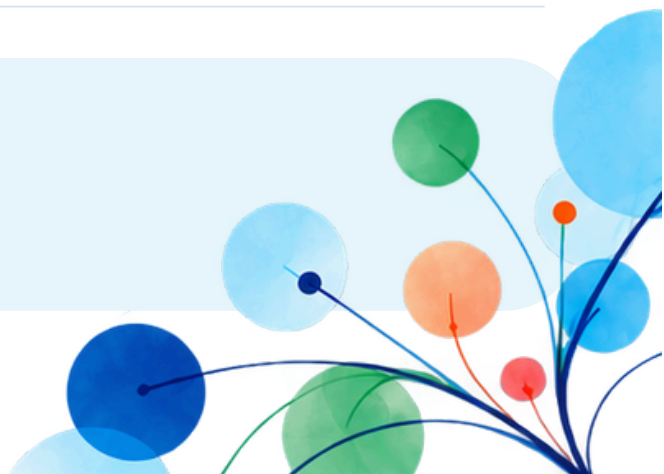

ONE IMPORTANT GOAL

What are you working toward right now?

	YES	SOMETIMES	NO
DESIGN
1. I know which kinds of people could help make this goal possible.	☐	☐	☐
2. I have meaningful relationships with people in the professional worlds where opportunities for this goal exist.	☐	☐	☐
3. I know where important relationships or connections are missing from my network.	☐	☐	☐
EXPERIENCE
4. The people who matter to my goal understand what I'm working toward.	☐	☐	☐
5. My conversations create value for both me and the people I meet.	☐	☐	☐
6. My relationships are opening up possibilities beyond what I could accomplish alone.	☐	☐	☐
CONTINUITY
7. I intentionally stay connected with people who matter to my goal.	☐	☐	☐
8. Good conversations lead to further conversations, introductions or opportunities.	☐	☐	☐
9. My relationships are helping me make visible progress toward my goal.	☐	☐	☐

ONE QUESTION TO CONSIDER

Who is missing from your network landscape who could make the biggest difference in achieving your goal?

What Could Your Network Make Possible for You?

A FOCUSED, PRACTICAL 90-MINUTE SESSION TO HELP YOU INVOLVE THE RIGHT PEOPLE AROUND YOUR MOST IMPORTANT GOAL.

You probably already know plenty of people. But knowing people and having the right people around your goal are two very different things. Your Network Landscape may have helped you recognize which relationships are helping you move forward - and who might be missing.

Network By Design™ helps you intentionally build the right strategic network so you can achieve your goal faster.

When you intentionally involve the right people, you create more opportunities, momentum and possibility.
