SPECIAL REPORT:
THE WAKE-UP PRAYER

If you feel stuck, broke, overwhelmed or too discouraged to pray, here's the way out

Attention

If, for some reason or no reason at all...

You quit halfway without completing the prayers you signed up for...

This is for you.

In the next 17 days, picture this:

> You wake up before dawn refreshed. Prayer no longer feels like a battle against your body — it flows with joy and ease. The same midnight hour that once drained you now fills you with divine strength. You hear God whisper strategies for your day before anyone else wakes up. You carry peace in your body and fire in your spirit.

This can be your reality.

There is a path to it.

I want to show you that path (if you'd let me).

All it takes is 3 minutes of your time as soon as you wake up in the morning.

If you're ready, let's go . . .

From: elisha Tuesday, 1:37 A.M.

Calvary greetings.

We start with this bulldozer of a prayer.

Please close your eyes and fire this prayer bullet like a mad prophet.

- All my divine benefits stolen, delayed, diverted to another, hear the word of the LORD, rush back to me by fire, before the end of this year in the name of Jesus.

Glory to God.

Let's see a real-life example of how this can happen.

All the way from Zimbabwe...

TJ was once so discouraged that she angrily unsubscribed from receiving my emails.

She wondered why others were sharing testimonies while she had nothing to show for all her prayers.

Please pay attention to this ...

(Because you may be in the same boat of discouragement where nothing seems to be working.)

Well, she was out there in the wilderness for a while.

Then, like the prodigal son she decided to make her way back.

What happened next shocked even her.

This is her true story:

"I still can't believe what has just happened to me"

"I still can't believe what has just happened to me. It feels like as David said in one of his Psalms when he said "When the Lord turned the captivity of ZION, we were like them that dream.

Elisha, l have been praying for a new job for 5 years now and l was deeply in debt. All to no avail. At first l would get regrets up to a point where there no responses at all.

I got so frustrated that l stopped searching. I joined your mail list and l got so frustrated and irritated with so many of the testimonies and still l couldn't get my own, so l unsubscribed to your mailing list.

Later on this year l just got tired of not having any word of encouragement so l subscribed again. I could not join the academy due to financial constraints.

I came across testimonials of Dr. Jane's prayer points and l read through the comments and testimonies below her testimony. A fire was set in my soul and the following day l bought a new notepad and wrote all the prayer points down*.*

I then dedicated the whole of September to fasting and these prayer points at the midnight watch. One thought the devil put in my head was what's different now, for the past 5 years you have been doing the same thing but no results.

But l just said, if l let my blood and sweat go for nothing in this prayer programme then if l die, let me die because of it. I got so addicted to them l would go to the rest room every hour and recite them all.

10 days into the prayer program an opportunity arose with an international company that is beyond my wildest imagination and l continued firing these prayer bullets.

By end of September l was called for an interview and immediately they told me that it was a success, and the salary was beyond my comprehension... Hallelujah l got the job and l am starting November.

Thank you brother Elisha for all you do. Keep encouraging us. Now l wait for your emails like a hungry lion.

- TJ Zimbabwe

Please notice when she said this:

A fire was set in my soul and ...

Because that's the KEY.

I'm going to explain the simplest and easiest way to ignite that fire so you too can go on to pray through to breakthrough... just like TJ did.

First, a flashback

Recently, I was hit with a powerful REVELATION as I scanned our testimony sharing site, Testigram.

I wondered whether all those who joined one prayer riot or the other (or ordered our prayer manuals) in the past were receiving the answers to their prayers.

Because I firmly believe that anyone who ever ordered our prayer manuals (and followed the instructions on how to pray) should be able to share at least one testimony before the end of this year.

That's when it hit me.

A huge number of those who take that step of faith run into satanic roadblocks AFTER ordering the manuals and could not continue with the prayers!

Just to confirm this, I sent out an email asking to know if anyone had run into these ROADBLOCKS and could not continue with the prayers.

If so, I wanted to help them remove that roadblock once and for all... so they too can share a testimony before the end of the year.

The replies came in fast and furious...

Within days I received over 2000 responses.

For easier analysis I grouped them into 10 categories.

1. Overwhelm, Fatigue, and Physical Exhaustion

Sample answers:

"It is my intention to get up to pray at midnight but a lot of times I sleep through the alarm."

"I wake up and sleep while standing and my eyes will not open until after 3:30 am."

What this means:

They start enthusiastically but hit a wall of exhaustion—often because they already carry heavy emotional, financial, or health burdens. After a while, midnight prayer feels spiritually powerful but physically unattainable, especially for those with demanding jobs or chronic fatigue. The devil begins to tell them that because they failed to wake up and pray for a few days, they failed and should quit. He makes them feel so guilty and unworthy that before long they withdraw from the prayers.

2. Discouragement When Answers Don't Come Quickly

Sample answers:

"I've prayed these prayers for a week and a day and I haven't really seen any changes… last night I thought to stop praying because it doesn't feel like it's working."

What this means:

The enemy makes people equate prayer success only with visible change. When answers delay, discouragement sets in, and the internal narrative becomes, "Maybe God doesn't see me or love me like the others," or "I'm doing something wrong." This hopelessness makes them drop out of the prayers early.

3. Distractions and Life Interruptions

Sample answers:
"Something always comes up!"

"My work is very busy and I get home late and may do just few night prayers or miss some days."

What this means:

Life crises—work stress, family conflicts, sickness, funerals—often interrupt the rhythm of prayer. Some see these interruptions as signs of personal weakness, pushing them into quitting whenever they are confronted with issues like these.

4. Spiritual Opposition and Fear from Dreams or "Attacks"

Sample answers:
"After that dream of a giant dark man, the trauma and fear made me stop the prayers."

"Every time I start with zeal, I face counterattacks—witchcraft, sickness, or nightmares."

What this means:

Fear of intensified spiritual warfare has discouraged many. They associate increased demonic dreams or attacks with "stirring the enemy," leading them to quit prematurely, not knowing the desperate attack of the enemy is because their testimony is getting close!

5. Emotional Burnout and "Loss of Fire"

Sample answers:
"I find it difficult to complete or follow through... for no reason at all, the zeal just dies."

"I start strong then I get lazy towards the end."

What this means:

This is a big one. Fatigue from long seasons of unanswered prayers is a favorite weapon of the enemy. You begin to feel numb, detached, and spiritually dry — something known as burnout. It opens a door for the enemy to start whispering: "Something's wrong with you spiritually, that's why God is not answering you!"

6. Shame, Condemnation, and Fear of Signing Up Again

Sample answer:
"Out of embarrassment to join for the fourth time, I felt as if someone was watching me that I don't finish."

What this means:

The enemy uses shame around "not finishing" as a spiritual roadblock. They want them to internalize failure as moral weakness or unworthiness before God, creating self-sabotage. With this, the enemy is able to disconnect them from the endless flow of daily encouragement and inspiration inside the forum.

7. Unresolved Personal and Family Crises

Sample answers:
"I have been jobless for 2 years, in financial bondage, stagnation, debts, sickness… sometimes not been able to finish some prayer programs."

"My husband left me… I pray that God should give me my own husband."

What this means:

The enemy exploits heavy emotional burdens (sickness, betrayal, debt) to drain prayer stamina. When pain is ongoing, prayer feels like another "demand" rather than healing space. They are unable to pray even though their hearts cry for divine intervention.

8. Technical or Logistical Barriers

Sample answers:
"Some PDFs can't open especially the opening first day."

"My phone crashed and I lost every material that was sent to me."

What this means:

Simple issues—lost passwords, missing books, broken links— can quickly derail many. Some have been able to correctly interpret these problems as spiritual attacks, with the goal of forcing them to quit.

This is why some of our emails end with this line:

I will not be bought off; I will sell out; I will not quit in the name of Jesus.

9. Financial Constraints

Sample answers:
"Sometimes I refuse to join because I think I'll be wasting money on something I won't even complete."

What this means:

The spirit of poverty produces a loop of guilt and scarcity. Many hunger for deliverance from the slave chains of debt but fear "wasting" scarce funds if they can't follow through—so they don't sign up or quietly withdraw, and the problem worsens.

10. Repeated Failure Patterns ("Starting but Not Finishing")

Sample answers:
"I always have zeal to start but I don't finish. I feel stuck in every area of my life."

"I started my master's in 2014 and didn't finish—I notice it's a pattern."

What this means:

Inherited or acquired evil patterns that must be broken through our kind of prayers. Many recognize these patterns across all areas of life—relationships, education, projects, and prayer. The enemy flips that around, reinforcing powerlessness and resignation.

Do you see yourself in any of these categories?

Does anything ring a bell?

If you ever quit your prayers halfway, can you identify with any of these groups?

Instead of what you've just read, let me paint you another reality...

Picture this:

Instead of quitting because of Overwhelm, Fatigue, and Physical Exhaustion...

You wake up before dawn refreshed. Prayer no longer feels like a battle against your body — it flows with joy and ease. The same midnight hour that once drained you now fills you with divine strength. You hear God whisper strategies for your day before anyone else wakes up. You carry peace in your body and fire in your spirit.

Instead of quitting because of Discouragement When Answers Don't Come Quickly…

You pray and smile because you know God heard you. Even before the answer shows up, peace floods your heart. You write down your wins each week, and every page reminds you: my prayers move heaven. You've become unshakable — the kind of believer who no longer begs for proof but thanks God ahead of time.

Instead of quitting because of Distractions and Life Interruptions…

You are unbothered by chaos. When life calls, you respond — but prayer still happens. Even when your schedule shifts, you simply adjust, smile, and continue. You no longer feel guilty for interruptions; instead, you bring every moment back under divine order. God's presence has become your quiet center in a noisy world.

Instead of quitting because of Spiritual Opposition and Fear from Dreams or "Attacks"

You no longer flinch at bad dreams or sudden fear. When darkness tries to rise, a prayer will suddenly be at the tip of your tongue - as you fire it — peace will return instantly. When you go to bed, you will sleep soundly, knowing angels are on guard. You carry quiet authority; even your voice sounds different when you pray — steady, fearless, victorious.

Instead of quitting because of Emotional Burnout and "Loss of Fire"

> You eagerly look forward to the hour of prayer. You no longer force it — you crave it. Each time you pray, it feels like coming home. You sing, you journal, you cry — and it's beautiful. You've found rhythm, not pressure. The same God who called you is now walking with you, reviving your fire day by day.

Instead of quitting because of Shame, Condemnation, and Fear…

> You find yourself no longer hiding from God or from your prayer group. You've learned that every restart is a victory. When others share testimonies, you rejoice — not compare. You carry holy confidence: "I may fall seven times, but I rise eight." You are proof that God's grace is stronger than guilt.

Instead of quitting because of Unresolved Personal and Family Crises…

> You're no longer crushed by everyone's needs. You intercede with power but carry no weight. Finances begin to stabilize, bills get paid, your children begin to flourish — and your heart finally exhales. You see yourself as blessed to be a blessing, no longer begging but having enough to share.

Instead of quitting because of Technical or Logistical Barriers…

> You log in effortlessly, prayers ready, materials in hand. No confusion, no panic. You navigate the program like a seasoned warrior in the digital world. Everything feels simple, organized, and clear. You whisper, "Finally, I can just focus on God."

Instead of quitting because of Financial Constraints…

> You now see money as a servant of your mission, not a master. You give joyfully and receive without guilt. You testify, "God is my Great Provider." You're free from debt's torment and generous in spirit. You live in the overflow — spiritually and financially.

Instead of quitting because of Repeated Failure Patterns ("Starting but Not Finishing")...

You cross the finish line of your prayer program smiling, tears of joy in your eyes. For the first time in years, you finished something that mattered. You lift your journal, whispering, "It is finished," and you know heaven has heard you. From now on, you finish what you start — in faith, in business, in life.

In summary...

In just 17 days you go . . .

- From fatigued to spiritually energized
- From discouraged to emboldened
- From distracted to laser-focused
- From fearful to audacious
- From burned-out to rekindled and passionate
- From frustrated to fulfilled
- From fear of lack to expectation of divine abundance
- From "I never finish anything" to finisher in Christ

It is time to pray again.

Please close your eyes and take this prayer with fire in your voice:

- God arise and give me open heavens in the name of Jesus.

Welcome to ...
The Path to a new reality

There's a simple exercise to help you ignite your prayer fire that TJ talked about at the beginning.

Actually, 2 simple exercises.

I have kept them so simple that you can finish everything in 3 minutes flat.

The first is a specific prayer I want you to pray as soon as you wake up.

That is, as soon as you get up from bed in the morning.

As soon as your feet hit the floor.

Nothing complicated.

Right after this, you will get a pen and paper and write something down.

(Better to write this in a notebook or journal, not a piece of paper that can be easily misplaced).

Here's what you will write.

First, think of something tangible that the LORD has ever done for you.

It doesn't matter how long ago it was.

If you can remember it clearly in detail you should write it down.

Just one thing.

For instance, if someone helped to pay the school fees for your children when you were having financial difficulty, then you might write like this:

"Lord, I thank you for using my friend Sarah to clear my daughter's school fees (of $300) years ago when I couldn't afford to pay."

OR

"Lord, I thank you for putting it into the heart of my cousin John to forgive the $50 loan I owed but couldn't pay"

OR

"Lord, I thank you for healing me last year of the migraine headache that used to feel like my head would split in two"

OR

"Lord, I thank you for saving my son David from that ghastly accident 10 years ago on his way to school"

OR

"Lord, I thank you for the promotion my daughter had at work last year, even when there was strong opposition from her manager"

OR

"Lord, I thank you for using my friend Lizzy as a divine helper to buy my son's school uniform when he was in grade 4"

Do you see where I'm going with this?

The more specific you are the better.

This program will continue for 17 days.

So, you will have 17 of these types of entries, one for each day.

You will use them at the end of 17 days to do something that can change the trajectory of your life... if you're able to follow simple instructions.

Remember:
the goal here is obedience, not perfection

If you are willing to follow simple instructions...

You stand to experience a renewal in the next 17 days or less.

With these 2 tips I've just shared with you...

You will no longer have to flinch at bad dreams or sudden fear.

When darkness tries to rise, a prayer will suddenly be at the tip of your tongue - as you fire it — peace will return instantly.

When you go to bed, you will sleep soundly, knowing angels are on guard.

You will find yourself looking forward to prayer again.

You will no longer have to force it — you will crave it.

Even if things do not change immediately in the physical realm... you will have an inner knowing that sooner than later, your God will arise and your enemies shall be disgraced.

Please get yourself ready to start doing this on Friday morning

(The moment you wake up - as you roll out of bed and your feet hit the floor).

There's yet another thing.

Call it Tip #3 - the bonus.

This is what ties everything together.

Call it Tip #3 –
The Surprise Bonus

- Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: is there anything too hard for me? – Jeremiah 32:27

Please imagine yourself as a film editor for a moment.

What does a film editor do?

Here's AI Overview:

> A film editor's primary role is to take raw footage and assemble it into a coherent, engaging final film by cutting, arranging, and refining scenes to tell a compelling story. Working closely with the director, they use creative skills to shape the narrative, dictate pacing, ensure continuity, and add sound and music to achieve the filmmaker's vision. Editors are also responsible for the technical process of selecting the best takes, trimming unnecessary footage, and collaborating with other post-production professionals.

If I ask you to think about the story of your life like a film editor...

I'm sure you will take about 1/200th of a second, splice it together and say this is my life.

Some people will remember only the bad experiences.

Debt. Poverty. Failure. Shame. Stagnancy.

A few will remember some good experiences.

But you see, every time you did not have a good experience, you may have had a bad experience; for every bad experience, you had a good experience.

Let me share an advanced spiritual insight with you.

God invites you to be an active participant in scripting the story of your life, not just a bystander.

It is possible to rewrite the script of your past just as easily as you can edit the script of your future (think of a movie).

There is a very practical example on page 43 of the prayer manual:

The #1 Secret for Getting Out of Debt that Nobody Talks About

Yes, it is possible to rewrite the script of your past just as you can sculpt the future by the way you edit your life story.

And this begins at the level of how you talk to yourself (self-talk).

You can empower yourself to talk to yourself (your inner man) the way God sees you, not the way the world has trained, programmed and manipulated you to write the script of your life.

Let's take an example from Scripture.

David vs. Goliath:
A Script Writers' Battle

Let me give you a different lens with which to look at this famous encounter.

(You can read the full biblical account in 1 Samuel 17: 20 – 50).

There are several scripts running in the story.

Let's look at a few of them.

Script #1 - Eliab's Script

Eliab, David's eldest brother had a script ready. He scolded David:

“Why did you come down here? And with whom have you left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your pride and the insolence of your heart, for you have come down to see the battle.”

Script #2 - King Saul's Script

And Saul said to David, “You are not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him; for you are a youth, and he a man of war from his youth.”

Script #3 - David's Script Part 1

Pay attention to David's own script of himself:

“Your servant used to keep his father’s sheep, and when a lion or a bear came and took a lamb out of the flock, I went out after it and struck it, and delivered the lamb from its mouth; and when it arose against me, I caught it by its beard, and struck and killed it.

Your servant has killed both lion and bear; and this uncircumcised Philistine will be like one of them, seeing he has defied the armies of the living God.” Moreover David said, “The Lord, who delivered me from the paw of the lion and from the paw of the bear, He will deliver me from the hand of this Philistine.”

Script #4 - Goliath's Script

So the Philistine said to David, “Am I a dog, that you come to me with sticks?” And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. 44And the Philistine said to David, “Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the air and the beasts of the field!”

Script #5 - David's Script Part 2

Of course, David did not let Goliath's curse go unanswered.

He immediately countered with his own script.

Then David said to the Philistine, “You come to me with a sword, with a spear, and with a javelin. But I come to you in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied. 46This day the Lord will deliver you into my hand, and I will strike you and take your head from you.

And this day I will give the carcasses of the camp of the Philistines to the birds of the air and the wild beasts of the earth, that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel. 47Then all this assembly shall know that the Lord does not save with sword and spear; for the battle is the Lord’s, and He will give you into our hands.”

See how detailed and specific he was?

This is the art of divine scripting.

David was a master at this.

While others had their own script about him, David was already running his own script.

This is the way David talked to his inner man (his self-talk), the way he saw himself.

He simply rehearsed it in front of his doubters and naysayers.

Because he understood this powerful principle which I'm trying to get across to you now:

Friend, the LORD expects you to act as a film editor when it comes to the story of your life.

Don't let the enemy write the script of your life!

You can sculpt the future by the way you edit your life's movie, starting from your self-talk, your inner narrative that nobody sees.

No wonder the scripture says:

For as he thinks in his heart, so is he... Prov 23:7

You want your prayer fire ignited for your testimonies to manifest before the end of this year?

Then you must align your inner script with the Word of God.

Enter into your prayer closet with this script and you will gain an unstoppable spiritual momentum to sustain you day in and day out until your testimonies manifest for all to see.

Lastly ...

Remember those daily journal entries I asked you to write?

We'll use them later...

To make special announcements and take special actions that will draw your testimonies to you speedily.

Since this document is already longer than it should be, I'll reserve the rest for the forum (more about that in a moment).

So let me just end with the…

The "Wake Up" Prayer

As soon as you wake up (and your feet hit the floor) please take this short 2-minute prayer:

Father, I thank you for waking me up today.
Thank you for watching over me and my family through the night.

Now, any bad dream, any form of manipulation, or negative revelation that I had, whether I remember it or not, I cancel and nullify all by the power in the blood of Jesus and I pray, O LORD, for every good dream I had, let there be a speedy manifestation in Jesus name.

Father, the night is over; I'm now starting my day.
Holy Spirit please put me and my family in your envelope of fire, guide me, pour out your wisdom, knowledge and understanding into my life; help me to make the right decisions today in line with the plan and purpose of God for my life in Jesus' name.

Today, if my enemies seek me, they shall not be able to find me, for my life is hid with Christ in God. No weapon fashioned against me shall prosper. The Word of God is in me, not written in ink, but by the Spirit of the Living God. The Word of God in me is a quickening spirit, keeping me and mine alive in the name of Jesus. Amen.

After this short prayer, please pull out your journal and proceed as explained on page 16.

Introducing Forum K:
The "Unstuck" Forum

Some of our Eagles have asked me to open a special forum where they can gather together for this momentum exercise.

That has cost implications.

The more forums we open, the more resources we consume, and the more expensive it gets.

However, I see the point in opening a new forum for this “homework”.

If you are interested, you may join us.

Inside the forum, I'll demonstrate how to use the day by day journal to "rewrite" the script of your life ...

... to manifest abundance instead of poverty and debt, divine wellness instead of infirmity, etc.

Plus, the prayers to go with them (many such prayers are featured in one or more prayer manuals - I'll just point you to where to find them).

We start on Friday, October 10.

The forum opens immediately.

Click here to join the new Forum for the "homework" session.

Be An Overcomer

elisha

PS.

This is a different forum than any other you may have seen in the past.

Inside it, I'm going to demonstrate how to write a script to get you out of debt and poverty.

I don't know about you, but each time I read the Bible, I see that poverty is clearly a curse, not a blessing. I see that debt is nothing but slavery in disguise. It is not my portion. It is not your portion.

But why are so many believers putting up with debt and poverty? I'll point out a specific script in one of our prayer manuals that many have used to get out of poverty.

For almost 20 years it's been there, inside a book I published at the very beginning of our ministry. Very few people have ever noticed it, let alone apply it.
