INSPIRING, INSIGHTFUL AND THOUGHT-PROVOKING TEAM EVENTS & RETREATS

Starting New Conversations That Change Everything

We are at a fork in the road. The old conversations are obsolete. And the most powerful thing a team can do right now is start a genuinely new conversation about the future. We have been guiding, activating and actively contributing to these conversations at leadership team events and gatherings. We talk about what it really takes to evolve yourself, your work and leadership — as leaders for a new future. So that you shape together what comes next during this time of a systemic transition.

THE NEW FUTURE SERIES

Three Formats. One Conversation.

Tailored to your team's context, your people, and what this moment is asking of them.

01

THE KEYNOTE · 20-30 MINS

Leaders For A New Future

An invitation to reimagine who we are as leaders — and to shift from simply optimising the existing status quo to becoming creators of what comes next.

- The fork in the road — why this moment is unlike any other and what it requires of us
- From good soldier to brave creator — the inner operating system upgrade
- Shaping the future — the three shifts to not just predict the future, but give it new form

02

THE MASTERCLASS · 90 MINS

Field Guide To A New Future

Your team's orientation guide to navigating this uncertain, unknown and unstable time — and to shape what comes next during this period of transition.

- The new terrain — reorienting purpose and impact for the new context we are in
- The new adventure — the system shift and what it is asking of leaders now
- The new rules of the road — evolving self, work and leadership for this time

03

THE RETREAT · HALF OR FULL DAY

Your New Future Roadmap

Charting your team's roadmap through this new reality — when the existing maps no longer apply. Setting a course to a new future in self, work and leadership.

- Managing your state — to stop reacting to the uncertainty, unknown and unstable context
- Activating the chrysalis — endings, shape shifts and new beginnings
- Flow as a new way of travelling — your compass, your map and your navigation system

"The old world is dying and the new world is struggling to be born. This is the time of monsters — and of lighthouses. Each one of us can choose to be the focal point of light we all navigate by."

BIOGRAPHY

A Guide For This Time Of Transition

Louise Le Gat is the Founder of Leaders For A New Future — a movement and leadership practice for those ready to rise, build and lead for the world that comes next. A former lawyer, pioneering voice in purpose-led leadership, and strategic partner to senior leaders and organisations navigating this pivotal collective transition, she works with executives, social innovators, intrapreneurs and changemakers to evolve their leadership beyond outdated models.

With over 25 years at the intersection of future-led leadership, systemic transformation and human development, Louise is known for her rare blend of strategic insight, human depth and her ability to guide leaders through deep realignment and profound transitions. She works with those who sense that business as usual is no longer enough — who are ready to stop being shaped by what is happening, and want to be active shapers of what comes next. Personally and collectively.

She spent a decade delivering transformational programmes at Nestlé, including the Performance Acceleration Programme for high-potential leaders, and was faculty and coach on the NCE College for internal changemakers. She was curriculum builder and faculty for Impact Hub's Intrapreneurship Academy. Earlier, as Career and Leadership Consultant at Allen & Overy, she designed pioneering pathways for lawyers to craft future-fit careers.

Louise currently teaches Future-Led Leadership at the University of Geneva as part of their Sustainability Transitions programme, and created the Sustainable You pillar for Accelerate2030 — co-led by UNDP, the Swiss Development Agency and Impact Hub.

Her first career was as a lawyer and mediator at a leading City of London law firm. She is the host of The New Future Radio and the author of the forthcoming book The Field Guide To A New Future. She lives between the Swiss Alps and the South of France.
