1. Introduction

This Manual is published in terms of Section 51 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000) (“the Act”). The Act gives effect to the provisions of Section 32 of the Constitution, which provides for the right of access to information held by the State and to information held by another person that is required for the exercise and/or protection of any right.

The reference to any information in addition to that specifically required in terms of Section 51 of the Act does not create any right or entitlement (contractual or otherwise) to receive such information, other than in terms of the Act.

A person may request information in terms of the Act only if the information is required for the protection of a right. Therefore, the requestor has to provide the designated person with sufficient particulars to ensure that the designated person is able to access the right which the requestor is seeking to protect.

This manual has been prepared to assist persons requesting information and provide procedures to be followed to gain access to information and documentation as provided for in the Act.

An introduction to the business of EI Activator:

Company Services Description:

EI Activator is a 3-step progression towards higher emotional intelligence. The EI Activator is not a test that measures abilities or skills, but rather a report based on a test that measures personality preferences. This report predicts an emotional intelligence DNA for each individual based on the strong correlation between temperament and personality on the one hand, and the default thinking, emotional, social, and behavioural patterns that underscore EI. Our client base is purposed for young individuals to experienced individuals from all walks of life who seek to improve people, relational and leadership skills. We provide services in the form of webinars, masterclasses, memberships and also offer trainer accreditation opportunities. EI Activator is managed by four directors and an independent contractor to manage regular administrative matters.

A copy of this manual is available to the public for inspection during office hours at the offices of the Company as well as on request from the designated contact person referred to in this manual.

7. The information request procedure

It is important to note that the successful completion and submission of an access request form does not automatically allow the requester access to the requested record. An application for access to a record is subject to certain limitations if the requested record falls within a certain category as specified within Part 3 Chapter 4 of the Act.

If it is reasonably suspected that the requester has obtained access to records through the submission of materially false or misleading information, legal proceedings may be instituted against such requester.

- The requester must use the prescribed form to make the request for access to a record. This must be made to the appointed designated person. This request must be made to the address, fax number or electronic mail address of the body concerned.
- Request for access to records of private body – Form C has been appended to the manual.
- The requester must provide sufficient detail on the request form to enable the head of the private body to identify the record and the requester. The requester should also indicate which form of access is required. The requester should also indicate if any other manner is to be used to inform the requester and state the necessary particulars to be so informed.
- The requester must identify the right that is sought to be exercised or to be protected and provide an explanation of why the requested record is required for the exercise or protection of that right.

- Take care to adequately describe the right which you are seeking to protect or enforce by means of the records requested. Please note that the courts have indicated that access to the records must be “necessary” for the exercise or protection of the right so stated.
- If a request is made on behalf of another person, the requester must then submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the satisfaction of the designated person of the private body.
- A public body may make a request for access to a record of a private body for the exercise or protection of any rights other than its rights, only if it is acting in the public interest.

Grounds for refusal of access to records

The main grounds for refusal of a request for information are:

- Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party who is a natural person, which would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information of that natural person;
- Mandatory protection of the commercial information of a third party, if the record contains:
 - Trade secrets of that party;
 - Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that party;
 - Information disclosed in confidence by a third party to the Company if the disclosure could put that third party to a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.
- Mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties if it is protected in terms of any agreement;
- Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property;
- Mandatory protection of records which could be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings;
- The Commercial Activities of the Company which may include:
 - Trade secrets of the Company;
 - Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of the Company.

Prescribed fees

- A requester who seeks access to a record containing personal information about that requester is not required to pay the request fee. Every other requester, who is not a personal requester, must pay the required request fee.
- The appointed designated person of the private body must notify the requester (other than a personal requester) by notice, requiring the requester to pay the prescribed fee (if any) before further processing the request.
- The fee that the requester must pay to a private body is R50 exclusive of value added tax. The requester may lodge an application to the court against the tender or payment of the request fee.
- After the designated person of the private body has made a decision on the request, the requester must be notified in the required form.
- If the request is granted then a further access fee must be paid for the search, reproduction, preparation and for any time that has exceeded the prescribed hours to search and prepare the record for disclosure.
- The prescribed fees relating to a request to access information are as per includes Section 54(7), Section 54(2) and Section 54(7) of Regulation 11(3).
