ON-DEMAND VIDEOS
8:00 a.m. Pacific	Breakout Presentations The first set of videos will be published at 9:30 am PST. These sessions will be available to watch at your leisure until October 11, 2021.
Dr. Brian Carl Assistant Professor of Philosophy Director, Center for Thomistic Studies University of St. Thomas	Thomism After Darwin: Seeing God's Design in an Evolutionary Cosmos
Fr. Carter Griffin Rector, St. John Paul II Seminary	Should Catholic Priests Be Celibate? Priestly celibacy is among the more controversial practices of the Catholic Church. This video sketches the history of celibacy and then explores, through a lens of spiritual fatherhood, the gift of celibacy in the life of the Church and the individual priest. Fr. Griffin then responds to the widespread claim that celibacy causes clergy sexual abuse. The video concludes by addressing the contentious question of optional celibacy.

Anna Bonta Moreland, Ph.D. Anne Quinn Welsh Endowed Director, Honors Program, Villanova University	Romantic Chaos in College: Cause and Cure This talk discusses the roots of the romantic chaos on college campuses across the country, offers a vocabulary to help us think through that chaos, and practical steps that help young people around the country rewrite the social script on dating.
Jay W. Richards, Ph.D., O.P. The Busch School of Business, The Catholic University of America	Eat, Fast, Feast: How To Recover A Fasting Lifestyle For most of Christian history, Catholics kept a rigorous fasting schedule that included two fasts per week, followed by a mini-feast of Sunday; 3 days of fasting during the Ember Days, which happen four times and year; and long fasting seasons of Advent and Lent (again followed by feasts). This fasting was as basic to the Christian life as prayer and almsgiving. But in recent decades, almost all of that has fallen away. Most Western Catholics now observe only residual fasts. Ironically, in the last several years, scientific evidence has been growing that fasting has countless benefits to our health, and can help reverse many of the so-called “diseases of civilization.” Still, for people on the standard American diet, fasting can seem like torture rather than merely a sacrifice. The good news is there is a way to transition to serious fasting that makes it much easier to practice. After just a few weeks, it’s possible for Catholics to make fasting part of their permanent lifestyle, and to tap into both its physical and spiritual benefits.
Francis X. Maier Senior Fellow, Ethics &amp; Public Policy Center Ignat Solzhenitsyn Conductor and Pianist Daniel Mahoney, Ph.D. Professor of Political Science, Assumption University	Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn: Why He Matters in 2021 A conversation with Ignat Solzhenitsyn, the writer Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn’s son, and Daniel Mahoney, Solzhenitsyn scholar, on the importance of his legacy today.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 2021

Kevin Wells Writer and Active Evangelist	The Startling Life of An American Hero and Future Saint Best-selling Catholic author Kevin Wells presents a talk on one of the most remarkable priests in Church history, Venerable Aloysius Schwartz. “People say that Saint Vincent de Paul was the great apostle of charity and that Fr. Al Schwartz based his entire missionary life on his,” said Msgr. James Golasinski, who worked alongside Father Al for ten years in the Far East. “But I’ve told people that Monsignor Aloysius Schwartz accomplished more than Vincent de Paul. What Father Al managed to do is beyond the pale. I was there, and I saw what happened.” At an age when clergy are often reluctant to take on the many facets of the Heresy of Modernism, Fr. Al - who grew up in Washington DC during the teeth of the Great Depression, became one of the boldest and holiest priests who ever lived. His untamed spirit and vow to serve the Blessed Mother each day of his priesthood resulted in hundreds of thousands of bodies and souls saved. Wells unpacks his riveting story in Priest and Beggar: The Heroic Life of Venerable Aloysius Schwartz (Ignatius, 2021). In today’s presentation, Wells explains why Father Al is on the path to canonization; he had a heart for the miserable, orphaned and disregarded.
Rev. Dr. Eric Zimmer President, University of St. Francis	All Things Made New at The University of St. Francis
