

THE 10 COMMITMENTS

of Savvi's Team Rise

01

I am here because I want to be.

I chose Savvi because I felt it was a great opportunity to help me (& my family) reach our goals. I am committed to reaching my goals, and only committed to Savvi so far as it helps in that endeavor. I am not married to Savvi, and reserve the right to always consider other options that might help me reach my goals.

02

I am celebrated here as I am.

Team Rise is inclusive! There is no 'mold' I need to squeeze into. I can look how I want to look. I can value what I want to value. I can believe what I want to believe. And everyone else here has that freedom also!

03

I am valuable regardless of the business I build.

My value is given to me by my Creator and inherent in me. My value is not determined by what I do with Savvi. I will be seen, and heard, and respected as a daughter or son of God - regardless of the results I see in business. And of course, I will offer others that same honor.

04

My team does not serve me - I serve my team.

My team does not owe me effort, money, a title, a promotion. My team does not owe me a bonus, or a reward, or a trip. My team is trusting me to lead and serve with grace and wisdom - and I will do that as well as I am able.

05

I am responsible for my results.

My sponsor and my upline do not owe me anything. I am an independent contractor. The success I achieve will not be to their credit, and the struggles I face are not of their doing.

06

I will find common ground with others and focus on what we have in common.

While the culture at large may be polarized and divisive, Team Rise is united. I am committed to focusing on what I have in common with my associates in order to foster this culture of unity. I recognize that there are differences in all humans, but that there are also commonalities. I choose to find common ground and focus on that.

I will embrace growth for my own benefit

While I am welcome and celebrated here for who I am, my coaches may call out my potential and push me to achieve more. I understand they will never do that for their own gain, or benefit - but rather to help me become aware of my ability. I am committed to growing in self awareness and becoming a better version of myself.

I will only celebrate others' success - I will not begrudge it.

I recognize that everyone's journey is different and that their success did not come at my expense. Their success is a result of the work they've put in to building a network and growing in influence. I will celebrate that success, and commit to learning and growing.

09

I will not be pressured into buying anything I don't want or need.

I understand that money is a sensitive issue, and I will not be told how to spend my money. I will not be pressured into buying anything or contributing money to anything that I don't want to. I will likewise not put that pressure on others.

10

I will keep this easy and fun!

If it's fun and easy, people do it, if they do it, they see results, if they see results, they open up options for their families which makes it even MORE fun. If it's NOT fun and easy, I will share my concerns Upline, never SIDeline, or DOWNline.
