

Your Child's Communication Strengths

Your Child's Communication Strengths

Taking the time to look at your child's communication skills in each area of communication can be helpful and encouraging to you as a parent. You may find that your child has communication related strengths you hadn't even realized before! One specific area of communication is listed on each page. Take the time to observe your child over the next week, and fill out the pages with your child's strengths in each area. Make sure you put the date and your child's age. You will want to look back on these to see all the wonderful progress your child is making over time!

Have fun celebrating your child's successes, big or small!

Sasha

MS, CCC-SLP

www.schooledinspeech.com

Name:

Age:

Date:

Nonverbal Communication Strengths

write down your child's strengths in this area in the boxes below.

Name:

Age:

Date:

Understanding Language Strengths

Write down your child's strengths in this area in the boxes below.

Name:

Age:

Date:

Speech Sounds Strengths

Write down your child's strengths in this area in the boxes below.

Name:

Age:

Date:

Expressing Language Strengths

Write down your child's strengths in this area in the boxes below.

Name:

Age:

Date:

Social Language Strengths

Write down your child's strengths in this area in the boxes below.

