Description of Book Coaching:

Book Coaching is an independent contractor partnership between the Book Coach and the Client of Sonship Publishing House Inc. in a thought-provoking and creative process that inspires the Client to maximize their authorship journey.

It is designed to facilitate the creation/development, guidance, accountability, and structure of the writing process. It is also designed to assist the Client to get in touch with their creativity and facilitate creative breakthroughs in clarity of direction; creative confidence; creative momentum and successful completion.

Book Coaching will also include:

- a. Assisting Client to get clear about their goals including getting clarity on why the Client want to write, who the Client want to reach and what effect the Client want to have on people;
- b. Developing a plan for success, so that the Client reach those goals;
- c. Creating a system for:
  - i. Taking action each week to reach goals
  - ii. Having accountability to support the Client success
  - iii. Addressing any challenges the Client have in meeting their goals and overcoming any roadblocks to achievements
  - iv. Learning from “mistakes” and turning them into “opportunities”
- d. Assessing the Client progress and make any necessary changes to the plan;
- e. Assisting the Client in organizing and developing their book
- f. Improving and polishing their writing – and can edit (only to make sure writing is in proper perspective and alignment) the Client work and teach Client to be a better writer
