

Episode Essentials Checklist

I. Planning Check:

Ч	Sources for stats and facts properly credited:
	What will the listener doubt or question and are those concerns/objections addressed?
	Who is the best expert I can put before my audience on this topic?

☐ Have I fully leveraged the guest's appearance?

2. Script Check:

 oci ipi onocia
Did I answer a question my listeners are asking?
What is my desired outcome for this episode?
Is the First Mental Image powerful and does it create a question in the listener's mind?

- □ Is the length appropriate?
- What is my call to action?Call to action in the script at least 3 times?
- □ Does the Last Mental Image support the call to action and close open loops?

Lori L. Barr, MD, FACR The Doctor's Mentor™

Helping doctors build practices that are rewarding, fun and profitable.

Consulting ♦ Masterminds ♦ Live Events
©2017 The Doctors Mentor, LLC

3. Pre-Recording Check:
	Is background noise in check?
	Is my script/outline displayed to minimize extra noise?
	Is my equipment ready to record?
	Am I dressed and poised for this role?
	Have I clearly voiced my desired outcome to myself?
	Am I talking to my one ideal listener?
	Is my energy up?
	Am I smiling?
4. Pre-Production Check:
	Is the recording acceptable?
	Are my production notes clear?
	Did I clearly state the call to action?
5. Pre-Publication Check:
	Are there any flaws in the recording?
	Is the timestamp transcription accurate?
	Is my sound file properly encoded?
	Are my keywords and metatags search engine optimized?
	What metric will measure episode success?
	What is my promotion plan?
	Do I need to fulfill anything for my guest?
	How can I leverage the episode results?
Is a podcast the fastest path to more profits or is there a better strategy for you
Go to TheDoctorsMentor.com/profits and schedule a complimentary half-hour profit planning session to find out now.

This is my $500 value gift to you.

Right Mentor ♦ Right Method ♦ Right Moment ©2017 The Doctors Mentor, LLC