

sdaef

sexual assault educational framework

About

SAEF strengthens sensitivity practices in cases of sexual violence and harassment.

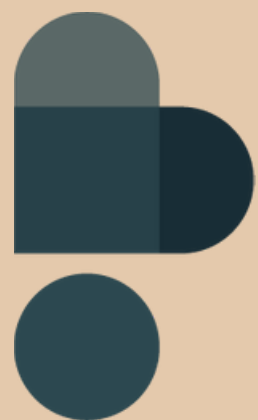

As a survivor of domestic violence and a survivor's rights advocate, I founded SAEF to strengthen reporting systems for survivors of all backgrounds. After working alongside survivors of sexual violence in my non-profit work with She Matters and ZLT Hope Homes, I understood firsthand the challenges survivors face when disclosing their experiences to public sector institutions, peers, HR departments loved ones.

My experiences as a Muslim-Canadian survivor living with a disability were my driving force to create a company sharing an inclusive perspective of best practices for serving or supporting survivors.

Our Team

Nyaguthii Kioi

Educator

Jacqueline
Villeneuve-Ahmed

Founder, Educator

Aly Becker, Rock
Paper Studios

Marketing & Branding Consultant

Our Solutions

SAEF offers three key services to address challenges for the public sector and corporate clients serving, supporting, or working alongside survivors of sexual violence and harassment.

Trauma-Informed Policy Development

SAEF offers trauma-informed policy development services for public and private sector clients. Our team operates with a co-design approach, ensuring we capture the essence of a client's values and unique culture.

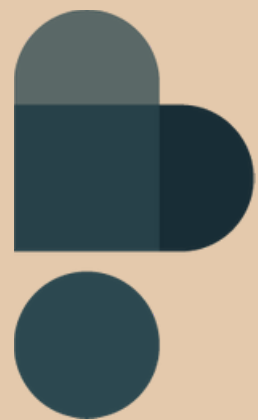

Consultation Services

SAEF consultation services offer a survivor-centered approach offering curriculum development services, assistance with investigations for the public sector institutions and privately owned businesses, public policy consultation, etc.

Virtual Training

SAEF offers virtual training utilizing an asynchronous individual user model. The individual user model approach ensures bias maintained by the participant will be addressed directly, leading to an enhanced understanding of sensitivity practices as a result.

Our Impact

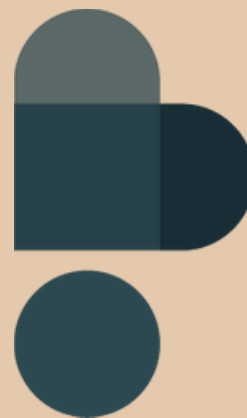

Restored Trust in Reporting Systems for Survivors

Survivor-Centred Policies and Procedures

Enhanced Interviewing and First Response Practices

Together, change is possible.

 @saef.co

hello@saef.co

www.saef.co