

Dr. Carol Parker Walsh

Bio

Carol is a powerful advocate for women unapologetically living life on their terms and doing the work they were meant to do in the world. She empowers women to boldly walk their path.

She is a TEDx speaker, two-time best selling author, international keynote and award winning consultant and has been the "go to" coach for Grammy Award Winners, Paralympic Gold Medalists, Fortune 500 executives, and 6-7 figure successful driven professionals and entrepreneurs.

Carol combines her vast educational and corporate experience and background as an employment attorney, professor, corporate consultant and image consultant, to support women to develop their professional brand and narrative and to navigate every stage of their life and professional career.

She helps her clients to stop hiding in the shadows of their brilliance and step into the power of who they are, their vision, purpose and their life's work.
