

Long Bio

Alexis M. Jarrett is a Columbus, GA native who is a visionary, entrepreneur and licensed minister. She helps people live seen and loved so that they can fully experience the wealth of life.

Through her ministry The Cherished Woman from her own scars and healing journey, she shows women how to unlock their purpose and be a champion of their emotional freedom.

She is best known for her straightforward advice, heart for God and creative insight that gives people have a 2020 Vision of their life. She manages having sickle cell disease and believes God will manifest her full healing.

When she is not serving women, she is running her own creative branding agency Alexis. M Creative LLC, where she helps you become clear and confident when selling your service based business products, even if you don't know who your audience is, even if you struggle with social media, and even if you are a beginner or expert in your industry.

Alexis current holds her Master's of Art in Nonprofit Administration from Western Kentucky University and is engaged to Kendarius Lott.

Short Bio

Alexis M. Jarrett is a visionary, entrepreneur and licensed minister. She helps business owners and women live seen and loved so that they can fully experience the wealth of life. She owns two powerful brands; The Alexis M. Creative Agency where she helps solo, service-based business leaders create clarity and visibility for their brands. She also birthed The Cherished Woman, where from her own scars and healing journey, she shows women how to unlock their purpose and be a champion of their emotional freedom. She is best known for her straightforward advice, heart for God and creative insight. She does all of this while managing having sickle cell disease and believes God will manifest her full healing.

Blurb

Alexis M. Jarrett is a visionary, entrepreneur and licensed minister. She helps business owners and women live seen and loved so that they can fully experience the wealth of life.