Meet the Designer

ADA Collection founder Ada Deferrari was on a trip to Argentina when she discovered gorgeous buttery leather, she'd use to make wrap around belts to help clothing fit better. She had previously used ropes, ribbons and fabric to tailor loose and unflattering tops and dresses – but leather would add elegance and polish to every outfit. Armed with scissors, staples and genius, she contoured the perfect “wrap belt”, came up with 12+ ways to tie it and the ADA revolution began! With a focus on solving wardrobe woes, the ADA brand has grown to offer hundreds of one-size and versatile belts that add the perfect finishing detail touch to every look. ADA belts has secured its place in women's hearts and in thousands retail boutiques, major stores and daily mentions in fashion magazines.

For the past 14+ years, Ada has been designing women's accessories and empowering women to choose style over fashion, teaching women how to accessorize outfits by combining the right looks for each individual woman, aligned with her body and life style.

The Collection

There's nothing like Argentinian leather. The pervasive Italian influence and craftsmanship in Argentina, the vast cattle ranches, and the steadfast appreciation for tradition all ensure that this leather is the highest possible quality. ADA Collection was built on that exceptional quality and is proud to be defined by it. We use only the finest of leathers in our products, constructed by the skilled artisans of Buenos Aires using Ada's visionary designs.

ADA Collection has been around for 14 years and carried in over 1,500 retail specialty boutiques including Nordstrom, Anthropologie, Free People, to name a few.
