

UNDERSTANDING THE ARC OF YOUR POTENTIAL

AGILITY • RESILIENCE • CONNECTION

What are the fundamental characteristics of leaders who are capable of initiating, anticipating, and even flourishing during rapid change? Based on our extensive research, we have determined that leaders are more likely to be successful when they are agile, resilient, and connected to different communities of support.

The ARC questionnaire measures behaviors and attitudes that promote agility, resilience, and connection. These skills provide the foundation for you to help determine your circumstances rather than unwittingly be determined by them.
