TOP TIPS

MAKE SURE YOUR NOMINATION STANDS OUT FROM THE CROWD

- 1 It is perfectly fine for you to nominate yourself. We encourage you to do so!
- 2 It is also fine for you to submit a nomination on behalf of someone else without them knowing. If they are shortlisted for an interview, they can then decide whether or not to participate.
- 3 Absolutely keep within the word limits. Responses that are significantly below the word limit are unlikely to be considered. Nominations that exceed the word limit will be marked down by the judges.
- 4 Avoid a rushed job. Plan ahead and take your time to consider the best content for an outstanding submission within the deadline (29 March 2021).
- 5 Reflect on the nominee's career as a whole and over time. We recognise that success often does not happen overnight. Give us enough detail so we can fully grasp the nominee's achievements taking into account their journey, challenges and milestones.
- 6 Treat this like an elevator pitch - tell us absolutely everything that you or the nominee are most proud of AND do it in a succinct manner. Stick to the point and avoid unnecessary information.
- 7 Remember the awards highlight business excellence, and so while reference to voluntary contribution to corporate social responsibility and diversity and inclusion is helpful, the majority of the content must be about the nominee's role in the business's performance as further expanded on below.
- 8 The most impressive submissions have included some of the following anecdotes:
 - a. Impressive metrics – sales targets, percentage increases/decreases, retention statistics.
 - b. Cutting edge inventions, process improvements, digital innovations, joint ventures.
 - c. Examples of dynamism and daring to be different or challenging the status quo.
 - d. Technical or creative excellence that has been recognised internally and/or externally.
 - e. Effective leadership contributing to, project delivery, profitability, business development.
 - f. Achieving success beyond immediate business objectives, expectations or targets.
 - g. Involvement in driving important business initiatives or tackling business issues.
 - h. Outstanding contribution to cultural transformation of teams or organisations.
 - i. Evidence of significant influence on internal and/or external stakeholders.
 - j. Unique or outstanding contributions to the relevant profession or sector.
 - k. Evidence of exceptional motivation, purpose and burning desire for results.
 - l. Notable contributions externally, including as a volunteer, advocate, public figure.
 - m. Anecdotal evidence that others are significantly inspired by the nominee and their business.
