INTRODUCING TONI NAVY

Our guest speaker today is a Hybrid-Workforce Consultant helping companies create a safer, smarter and productive workforce. She is a 3X Silicon Valley Fortune 500 leader with over 25 years of experience in roles such as VP of Operations, HR Director and Executive consulting roles in hi-tech companies. She has also trained over 15,000 leaders, entrepreneurs and professionals throughout her career.

When she's not transforming leaders and companies, she enjoys spending time with friends, her son at Arizona State University and doing home renovation DIY projects.

Let's give a warm welcome to our guest speaker, Toni Navy.

SHORT BIO FOR PRINT AND MEDIA PROMOTION

Toni Navy is a Hybrid-Workforce Strategy Consultant. She helps companies create a safer, smarter and more productive company by developing hybrid workforce models, protocols and programs. In addition, her consulting business, Toni Navy International, provides leadership training as well as diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) training and programs. She has over 25 years of experience in Operations, Human Resources and Management Consulting positions.

Earlier in her career, she served as VP of Operations for Chapmen Family of Businesses (the owner, Myrtle Potter, was the former COO of Genentech) where she was responsible for establishing infrastructure and managing operations for 5-sister startup companies including HR, IT, telecommunications, risk management, payroll and vendor management services.

She also held a Director of Human Resources position with CashEdge, LLC where she established a talent acquisition vision and function with a staff of six and recruited over 65% of the firm's workforce including international employees for software engineering, IT and core business positions. Toni started her professional career at HP (when it was still Hewlett Packard Co.), working as a human resources manager to provide partner services to its Global Sales Services team, which at the time had 70+ management accounts. At HP she also worked with the Taskforce Team to help lead nationwide redeployment and placement processes for over 2,000 employees.

Toni Navy earned a Bachelor of Arts from Mills College with a degree Political, Legal and Economic Studies. The Denver native has been a resident of Morgan Hill for 19 years. When she's not transforming leaders and companies, she enjoys spending time with friends, her son at Arizona State University and doing home renovation DIY projects.

Savvy Successful Women Lead in the Age of Covid-19

The Covid-19 outbreak has impacted every aspect of our lives from our health, finances, and families to the way we work and how we lead. As women, mothers, and professionals the new normal has created a compounding effect on the expectations of what and how we contribute. Discover the best practices that savvy successful women are putting into action as they lead while integrating their business, family-life and still find time for self-care. Together we can re-shape our perspective of a thriving lifestyle and lead.

Leading High-Performing Virtual and Onsite Teams Through a Pandemic

Discover the smart and practical strategies you can put in place to empower, communicate and lead productive virtual and onsite teams in the age of Covid-19. Learn best practices to engage your remote team, collaborate virtually and still hold people accountable for staying productive and achieving results.

You'll also discover how progressive companies are leading onsite teams by creating a safe workplace, designing smart workflow practices and communicating with confidence in the face of uncertainty. The ultimate leadership dynamic is understanding how to lead virtual and onsite teams in the age of Covid-19 and still maintain productivity, innovation and revenue driven results.

Global Diversity, Equity and Inclusion in a Global Marketplace

In today's modern workplace, we find people working in multiple locations, time zones, across borders and with multiple cultures from around the world. Recent events and protests about racism have sparked global conversations about what companies can do to create a more diverse and inclusive culture.

We explore the forms of racism, including individual, interpersonal, institutional and structural. How we can connect and work with people from different backgrounds, cultures and beliefs. And ways to recognize and manage behaviors to create a safe and inclusive environment.

Future-Focused Leadership

In today's global economy, the only constant is that businesses must be able to change and adapt quickly if they want to survive. As a leader you must find new ways to evolve, contribute and continue to be relevant to the organization. Future-focused leaders will need to focus on delivering results today and taking advantage of opportunities that will deliver results tomorrow.

In this session, you'll learn core practices to communicate smart strategic plans, how to mobilize people to take action and take part in finding new ways to operate and move the business forward. This requires our leaders to think in new ways, empower leadership everywhere and be open to developing new capabilities while moving forward in the face of ambiguity.

High-Performing Global Teams

Companies rely upon a geographically dispersed and multicultural teams that communicate heavily on electronic or through virtual media platforms. Discover how to increase productivity and performance when team members are from different races, countries and functional backgrounds across multiple time zones.
