OBJECT: codes in phase-out

Dear Customer,

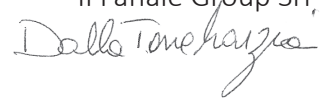

We would like to anticipate you that coinciding with the new 2022 documentation development, some currently in the catalog codes are already in phase-out, in order to ensure greater efficiency in the management of the product portfolio.

This choice was determined in some cases by the difficulty in sourcing materials and in other cases by the slow-moving codes.

Herewith enclosed you'll find a table with the already in phase-out codes and collections. In case of request for these articles, we kindly ask you to contact our sales office to verify the availability before the order confirmation.

Thank you for your precious collaboration.
Best regards
