

KATY CAROAN

speaking

Many speakers are great inspirers – but are all speakers great at making people take lasting action and enable the leader within the attendee?

Katy Caroan offers an engaging and action driven series of seminars, speeches and workshops, asking the key questions helping you go beyond the insights, providing the perspectives you need and challenging you to stretch yourself towards your next opportunity.

After more than 18 years in international IT-consulting corporations such as Accenture and IBM, Katy Caroan started her own coaching, consulting and training business in 2010.

Katy is passionate about helping individuals and teams leverage traditional coaching and training with cutting edge technology to get the most out of their professional potential and attract the professional opportunities they deserve. Her background from various leadership and management positions in an international environment adds a corporate flavor to the entrepreneurial mindset challenges in our digital age.

People hire Katy for speaking engagements, workshops, team coaching & training as well as individual VIP coaching & training through her signature program, “Master Your Professional Assets”. This program even includes the unique analysis “Your Professional Reputation™” by Frykman & Sandin.

Katy believes in fusion everywhere, especially when it comes to professional potential, friends as well as food. Although located in Stockholm, Sweden, Katy is available globally through her services portfolio.

Katy Caroan can speak, teach and moderate discussions in English, Swedish and Norwegian on the following topics:

- Social Media for Personal & Professional Development
- Proactive Employer Branding Strategies In The Digital Age
- Your Professional Reputation And What You Can Do To Protect It
- Social Media Kick Off For Ambitious Leaders
- Establishing An Effective Digital Presence As An Emerging Entrepreneur
- From Executive To Emerging Entrepreneur - Digital Positioning For Top of Minds
- Mastering Your Long Term Career By Combining The Best From Real & Virtual Worlds
