

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.

life groups' sermon guide

kingsway underground – truth

Life Groups exist at Kingsway to provide authentic relationships for the life application of the Core 4 elements of worship, grow, serve, and share.

Truth: Teaching and Living Out God's Word

Introduction

Truth is a subject we seem to spend a great deal of time investigating. We all have one thing in common when it comes to truth: we want to know what is true, and how we can know that it is true. If you search the Internet on the topic of truth, you can find a variety of philosophical explanations about how to determine what is true. If you dig further and search Bible truth, you find a series of arguments for and against the inerrant truth found in the Bible.

Q: Have you ever tried to convince a non-Christian that the Bible is true? What evidence did you use?

Q: What did you learn about yourself while defending the foundation of your faith?

Investigation

We have a number of tangible facts about the Bible that help us to trust its accuracy without requiring faith. For example, we know that throughout history, the Bible is known as the best-preserved literary work all time. In addition, the Bible contains over a thousand prophecies, most of which have already come to pass and can be proven through the record of secular history. Not only does the Bible prophecy about the future, it also recounts distant history with incredible accuracy. (For more facts concerning the validity of the Bible go to www.allabouttruth.org).

Many of us also have personal experiences that point to the existence and presence of our Sovereign God. We have experienced God keeping his promises that are written in Scripture. He has brought us through challenges that grow our faith.

Q: Briefly share about one time when you have experienced God, his word, his truth and promises to be absolute.

As Christians, we place our faith in Christ. He states, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). We can also look to the Bible for God's teaching to transform our lives. Some may argue that Scripture is not relevant for our lives, or that it does not address the problems we face today. Let's examine what relevance Scripture has for our daily lives.

Read Hebrews 4:12.

Q: What does the writer mean when he says that the word of God “cuts between soul and spirit, joint and marrow”?

Take a moment to write down a recent conviction God has given you through use of Scripture. If you desire, share this with your group.

Read 2 Timothy 3:16-17.

Q: What is Scripture useful for?

The Bible is our instruction manual to recognize wrong, learn what is right, and equip us for God's work! And yet, for many of us, the discipline of reading God's word is a challenge. If we do not choose to make it a priority, we are left with good intentions, and lack of growth. In John 17:17, Jesus prays for believers, asking God to make them holy through the truth of the Word. We learn in Ephesians 6:17 that the Word of God is our sole offensive weapon in the battle against Satan.

God's Word has the power to transform us and strengthen us, if we choose to live out what we learn. James 1:22 challenges us, "But don't just listen to God's word. You must do what it says. Otherwise, you are only fooling yourselves."

Invitation/Application

Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem with 22 stanzas. Throughout the chapter, there are themes of wisdom, lament, praise, thanksgiving and confession. The focus is on God's teaching and uses words such as instructions, laws, words, regulations, statutes, commands, decrees, commandments and promises. It is an expression of commitment to God's instruction.

As a group, skim the chapter. Pay extra attention to Psalm 119:1-3, 9-11, 33-34, 89-91.

Q: What does the psalmist desire?

Q: What does he promise God in response to teaching?

Q: What one step will you take to connect God's teaching and your obedience this week in order to "live out God's word"?

Take time to pray together. Ask God to teach you, and for willingness to respond with obedience. Ask God to show us how to live in the freedom he gives us through his truth so that he will be glorified.