

LifeWay Kids Christmas 2012 Minute Challenge Games

Mary and Joseph's Bethlehem Adventure

Participants will take a cut-out of Mary and Joseph along a taped path that will lead them to Bethlehem. The catch is that the "tour guide" is blind folded and must rely on his teammates to shout directions ... all at the same time.

Lights Off, Lights On

Teams will participate in a relay style race that will challenge them to be the first team to have all of their Christmas light bulbs illuminated.

Snowman Stack

Participants will use two/three golf balls and stack them on end creating a snowman shape. (This may be done multiple times once I determine how long it takes to actually stack two/three golf balls on top of each other ... After trying this it's pretty safe to say that doing this once in a minute will be challenge enough.)

Christmas Tree Showdown

Participants will use rice crispie treats and icing to build the tallest Christmas tree.

Hooked on Candy Canes

Participants will use a candy cane placed in their mouth to hook onto other candy canes to and drop in a bucket. The winner will be the player who has the most candy canes in his/her bucket after one minute of play.

Kooky Cookie Stack

Participants are stacking assorted Christmas cookies to build the tallest tower of Christmas cookie cheer.

Reindeer Nose Dive

This is a fun game for all ages. Before the game starts, tie a large red pom-pom to a length of red ribbon. To get the player ready, she should don reindeer antlers (this is optional but really adds to the spirit of the game) and dangle the ribbon with the attached pom pom from his/her mouth. Put a little dab of petroleum jelly on her nose. When the timer starts, he/she must swing the pom pom to land and stick on his/her nose using only his/her mouth and body - no hands.

Christmas Cookie Drop

Participants will move a Christmas cookie from their forehead to their mouth without using their hands. The first person to make the "big drop" is the winner.

All Wrapped Up

Using colored gift wrap or plastic wrap, you will have 1 minute to completely wrap your team member. When all the wrap is used, place a bow on top of your team member.
