Naughty Excerpt from "Passionate Lesbian Dream" "You're from another country?" "Planet." Merita's hand flew out and the world blurred. A blue sphere appeared, painted with white, fluffy bits and dotted with land that was a mix of green-brown and... My eyes widened. "Is that...Earth?" "From orbit. Your kind are a century away from the most primitive technology to see this," she said. "This is your planet. Earth." "Are you from Mars then? Or Venus?" An excited catch jumped into my voice. "Is that why you're so beautiful and naked? Because you're from Venus?" "Why would that...?" She squirmed against me. "No, no. I am not even from your solar system but from another star." My eyes widened as the world zoomed. My stomach lurched as earth flew away, dwindling to a small point. Then the sun became a little dot. We hurtled past stars and flew through clouds of colorful dust. My eyes widened as we stopped before a blue star, a hazy, orange planet hanging before it. "That's my home." "So you're not a fairy but an...an alien from another planet?" It was too much to believe. I squirmed. "And you came to my planet in your egg." "Spaceship." She hesitated. "I crashed, actually. There was a mishap. I'm stuck here until I can repair my ship. If I can repair my ship." I bit my lip. "And where are we?" "In your mind. You passed out when I merged with your body. I'm inside you now. I guess I'm possessing you, though that's not quite right. Your language is so limited." "Sorry." Then a flare of indignation shot through me. "No. I'm not. English is a perfectly good language. And what do you mean by possession? Are you controlling my body?" "No, no. I had to merge with you. Do you remember falling down the crater?" I nodded my head. "Well, you broke your neck. You would have died if I didn't render you help. I sent nanomachines into..." She sighed. "You don't know what nanomachines are, of course?" I shook my head. "Well, they're little...automatons. And they are inside of you fixing the wound, but your body's immune system rejected them. They haven't fixed you yet, only created temporary nerves so you can move and breathe and not die. If I didn't merge with you, your body would have rejected the help and died. So long as we're one, the nanomachines will fix you." "Are you sure you're not a fairy?" I asked, my head reeling. Immune system? Little automatons inside of me. Like those windup toys clockmakers build? "Because that sounds like magic." "It's not. It's science. Very, very advanced science." "And you're in me now?" "Uh-huh." "And this is all my imagination?" "Yes it is." "This is a little much. I mean..." I swallowed. "What if I've gone crazy? I did hit my head." "Would your imagination ever create a purple-skinned alien with tentacles. Tentacles that do this?" I gasped as the tentacle playing with my golden pubic hair slid down between my legs and rubbed at my pussy. Pleasure tingled through me. My folds instantly grew wet as the rubbery appendage stroked me. My nipples ached and I squirmed, suddenly so aware of her nipples poking me in the back. Hard nipples. "No," I gasped, her tentacle massaging my clitoris. My eyes widened as the pleasure raced through me. "I don't think my imagination could come up with something...so...so strange. Oh, my. That's..." "Amazing," she purred, her voice husky. "Mmm, you are beautiful. Your hair is so wonderful." Her tentacle brushed one of my blonde pigtails. I only answered with a moan, trembling as she rubbed harder and harder at my clitoris. My toes curled as I squirmed again. Her touch was delicious, teasing me, stroking me, driving me so wild. "Y-you're making me feel so strange. You're causing me to have hysterics." "Such a curious way to say you're horny," Merita purred, her tongue licking my ear. "I like it. I'll cure your hysterics, yes. I'll make you cum. Relax you so you can find wakefulness again." I let out a moan as her tentacle moved from my clitoris to my pussy. It rubbed up and down against my wet flesh. The pleasure rippled out of my sex and through my body. I gasped, arching my back, pressing into her breasts. Her lips nibbled on my ear then she nuzzled at my neck, kissing and licking, while her other tentacles caressed my body.
