FOR

Beverly Sallee Ophoff

who has signed her notes and letters for decades:

“You’re cool.”

AND FOR

Carson, Ava, Colby, and Lucca

My great nephews and niece—so wonderfully made!

With your jaunty cap and that saucy toss of your head

. . . you’re so cool.

With your latest style that goes beyond current to future

. . . you’re so cool.

With your lopsided smile that’s impossible to resist

. . . you’re so cool.

With your clever way of putting words together in new ways

. . . you’re so cool.

With your building ability and creative play

. . . you’re so cool.

With your fun ideas and choices, even about unfun things

. . . you’re so cool.

And I love you to pieces.

I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made.

pure delight, “Cooooool.”

His mother was surprised. She had never heard him use the word before.

I was surprised. I couldn’t imagine where he could have learned the word—his parents were way too cool to use it. I was pleased nonetheless. In an odd, rather comforting but unfathomable way, my favorite childhood word had reemerged in the family DNA.

Way cool.

There’s just no word quite like “cool.”

It is clean, succinct, acceptable, and nearly universal.

It is friendly and positive.

It is retro and yet a bit funky.

It can convey impulses that are spontaneous, delightful, transitory, or definitive.

It can convey responses of interest, intrigue, and wonderment.

It can be assigned to memories, dreams and hopes, and real-time experiences.

It can be used to describe objects, tastes, sounds, environments, textures, and all other sensory delights.

It can be a subdued intellectual response to new information, as well as an expression of deep emotional satisfaction.

It certainly describes YOU.

Let me tell you how!

2 Cool Facts and Ideas

All Types

God made every personality. He enjoys hanging out with people of ALL personalities.

There is no indication that we get a different personality after we die and go to heaven. The personality we have will be perfected, but not different. Which means that God wants to live with lots of different personalities FOREVER!

God not only loves you. He likes you. *

A collection of interesting fun facts about the similarities, quirkiness, and the uniqueness of human beings!
