Cindy's Dilemma By. Dennis J. Pate & Jennie Jasmine It was Saturday evening. Cindy had just returned from her weekly visit to grandma. She was telling mama all about it. Grandma had fed Cindy all her favorite foods. Then grandma and grandpa had taken her to the park. Cindy had used the Slides and the Swings to her heart's content. Grandma had shown her some nice plants. Cindy had met a man walking his cute dog and the nice man let her pet his dog. She was quite happy with the trip. Just before mama picked her up, grandma told Cindy that she had planned a very special surprise for next weekend's visit.

Suitable to be read to children of ages 4 to 8.

importance. and if children built the habit of fulfilling the commitments then they are such better humans.

Story do not have a moral at the end but your kid will find the moral him/herself!

Cindy's grandma has planned a surprise for her on Saturday afternoon. Cindy is excited about it. But then her best friend invites her to a movie she really wants to see. And that is on Saturday too. Poor Cindy does not want to hurt grandma's feelings but she does so want to go for the movie with her friend. What will she do now? Read on and find out.
