Pull Over, Ladies by Randi Roman Copyright 2013 by Randi Roman This is a work of fiction, intended for readers over the age of 18. All characters are over the age of 18. I should have known Melinda's new convertible was trouble. It was all red metal and smooth chrome: it looked like it was zooming along at eighty miles an hour when it was just standing still. I whistled. "Nice!" "Like it?" Melinda struck a dramatic pose against the side of the car, flinging her arm across the windshield, her tartan skirt riding up her thighs in the process. One breast almost slipped out of her white silk top – Melinda didn't bother with bras. "Looks hot, huh?" I giggled. "You look hot," I said. "That's going to get you laid, no doubt about it." She laughed. "I sure hope so!" she said. "What good's a cool car without a hot girl inside it?" That was Melinda: always joking. She and I went all the way back to Junior High, when we were just two plump and nerdy outcasts, hung up on Harry Potter. But she was fearless, whereas I was just a bespectacled geek. I actually swooned over Daniel Radcliffe in the movies: she found Dumbledore and Hagrid much more intriguing. Melinda was the sort of person who could actually have played Quidditch: she'd have given Rolanda Hooch a run for the money! And when we went to high school, I was the one who found Jane Eyre interesting: her heroine of choice was Eleanor of Aquitaine. "She invented chivalry, you know," Melinda informed me one day. "Tamed those darned knights, put Henry the Second in his place, mother of King Richard." I rolled my eyes. "I'll bet you wish you were a queen," I said mockingly. She laughed and cupped her already-ample breasts in her hands. "It's going to take a king to handle these babies," she shot back. "I won't be satisfied with a mere jack... off." And she wasn't. I wasn't the only one surprised when she managed to snag a starting member of the football team -- and not a linebacker either. He was a tight end -- "Real tight", she teased me, "a jock, not a jack!" -- and she even got him to take her to prom. Yet she still managed to keep the respect of the eggheads; she was smart as a whip. I just tagged along, always in the background, living vicariously in her shadow: smart, but not as smart -- and not half as sexy. With her, people were so entranced they didn't even notice that she was a "big girl", but she never let that get in her way: she was comfortable with it, so they were too.

I tried my best to look innocent.

They're just two happy-go-lucky, plus-size, California girls -- off to the beach to find some surfin' dudes -- when Melinda's need for speed gets them in trouble. Can they convince the burly black cop that they'd do anything -- anything! -- to avoid a ticket?

This 4350-word story has two wild BBWs, an African-American policeman serving the public, and all kinds of gooey sex: you must be over the age of 18 to read this.

(Excerpt)

"Be right back," Melinda said cheerfully as she followed him away. I turned my head back around to the left and watched as they walked over to stand beside the motorcycle. He leaned back against it and crossed his arms. His face was serious. She stood there, listening to him, hands demurely clasped behind her. I guess this was the lecture she had expected. Then he surprised me. He reached down and began to unbutton his pants. Melinda dropped to her knees. I gasped... I slipped my right hand into my own pants and under the waistband of my panties: this was turning me on. I felt my warm juices trickling onto my fingers and moaned... Uh-oh: I was busted! I quickly turned my head, and pretended to be staring out the front window. Of course I wasn't watching you, Officer. The fingers of my hand were gooey with cum. I froze. Guilty, guilty, guilty -- the curse of the redhead. I heard the crunch of his boots on the gravel beside the car, then he was pulling my car door open. My hand was still buried in my panties. "What have we here?" he asked in his deep voice. He towered over me.
