Crystal reports designer application

I downloaded the developer edition of Crystal Report for s2019 and my crystal report works well locally but now I have to post the app on the production server . My question is the developer edition will work or do I need to install a runtime version of the crystal report on the server? And what is the way to post a crystal report on the server? Please help

Crystal Reports Designer is an application that provides a graphical interface for reporting development and provides flexibility and control while creating high format, feature-rich reports. It includes a full and rich set of layout and design controls to give professional created reports, perfect pixel appearance without any custom encoding, simplify the number of reports using parameters and organize data in a logical way using sections, groups and sorting. Chart and map report forecasts are supported by the Smart Planning feature, which automatically recommends the best planned type for a particular set of data. For novice users, Crystal reports include an intuitive report design expert and a reporting processor. For more advanced users, Crystal Reports allows control of most features, including formulas, conditional formatting, and object positioning so that reports can be largely customized. Crystal reports provide a collection of more than 35 data connection drivers to any relational, OLAP, XML, or data source in memory. Original CR, ODBC, OLE DB, or JDBC provide a connection to databases, files, records, enterprise applications, program elements, or BusinessObjects. The basic SQL can be customized for each report developed in Crystal Reports, providing full control over how data is queried. It is also easy to link data from multiple sources and languages in the same report. The Crystal Report Designer consists of toolbar tabs, the Design tab, the Field Explorer, and the Report Explorer. Toolbar divided into standard, format, insert, expert, navigation bars. The design tab provides an environment for a report design. The data you want to put in the report is represented by the fields that are placed in the report sections. In the design tab you can also do the format or select the sort and assembly order. The basic sections of the Design tab: The page page report page details of the page appendix click here to look for more about the areas explorer fields used to insert, modify, or delete fields from the report. The database fields folder consists of a list of database tables and columns that you can retrieve data from. If you are not connected to the database, right-click the database fields folder and select the database expert. In the database expert dialog box select to connect to the database or create a new one. Select the tables you want to use and click OK. Expand the database fields folder to see all available objects. To put the field on the report Then drop the field window on the report or select a field and use the insert field button from the Field Explorer toolbar. You can switch from the Fields Explorer tab to Report Explorer to the report section to manage report sections. To add special fields such as page number, print date or comments, expand the special fields folder on the Field Expert tab. From the list of private fields, choose the fields you want to use, drag them, and drop them in the section you want to place. To insert a text object, select insert a text object from the toolbar. Draw the text object frame in the section you want to place in. Fill the frame with text. You can also put a picture on the report. To do this, click the Insert image button from the toolbar, browse for the image you want to use and then open it. Place the picture frame in a specific section. To preview the report before printing it, use a preview before printing on the toolbar. The report preview will be created. You can also preview the report in HTML format. To do this, click html preview button. Privacy Policy | Legal Policy | Jobs | Location Map | Notes | Referral | Contact Us Copyright © 2000 - Chetu Inc. All rights reserved.
