Taking Easter Digital

Every year, our family hosts an Easter Egg Hunt for our group of friends and their small kids. It's grown to be a much loved tradition. Sadly, it is one of the many casualties of #coronapocalypse (of course we admit it does not rank high in importance, but we are still bummed nonetheless). To keep the spirit alive, we are going digital with our egg hunt, and everyone's invited!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

1. Go to blaseinzina.com/egg-hunt and print the Easter egg template (or make your own!)
2. Decorate it as creatively as you want
3. Hang it in one of your windows so we can all go on a socially distanced egg hunt (Get your neighbors in on the fun!)
4. Take a picture with your egg and post it on Instagram/Facebook tagging Blase Inzina Injury Attorneys.

The best three egg artists will win a (highly sanitized) age-appropriate Easter swag basket.

HAPPY HUNTING!

I was involved in an accident in March 2019 in Lafayette, Louisiana, and I came across Blase Inzina through a web search because I was unsure of who to call for representation. He made the whole process incredibly easy from start to finish. He was very thorough with every step of my case and made me feel less stressed about my situation. I would highly recommend to anyone.

5 (not-so-obvious) things you need in your car

-QUARTERS FOR THE AIR PUMP

(because some places STILL only take quarters!)

-AN EXTRA PHONE CHARGER AND USB PLUG

(not the one you always use...a backup!)

-A CHARGED BACKUP PHONE BATTERY PACK

(in case your phone AND you car are dead)

-A PRINTED LIST OF EMERGENCY PHONE NUMBERS

(again...dead phone...)

-A SEAT BELT CUTTER/WINDOW BREAKER TOOL

(keep this in your center console so you can reach it if you ever need it)

He Said/ She Said With Frances and Larry Attenhofer

If safety and affordability weren't a concern, would you buy a driverless car?

Absolutely! I hate driving! If Larry says he would, he's lying. He likes to be in control!

My wife says I wouldn't because I like to be in control. That's probably right. But also because I would get car sick.

Corona victory

There's a lot of bad things we can say about COVID-19 and its impact on our daily lives, but we'd be lying if we said we haven't seen anything positive come out of our mandated quarantine. In the Inzina world, our 8 year old has finally learned how to ride her bike without training wheels, which is something we never really took the time to practice with her. Plus we've tackled tons of projects we never really had time to do. We won't mention the coronafailures here!

What is one of your "coronavictories"?

Send us a picture of your quarantine successes, and we will enter your name to win one of three Nutrition Krewe gift cards!

Many of life's failures are people who did not realize how close they were to success when they gave up.

DOES WORKER'S COMP APPLY if i'm working from home???

It can. But like all legal questions and answers, it depends. In general, employees are covered under worker's compensation if the injury arises out of and occurs in the course of employment.

In other words, if you are injured while you are doing your job during your work hours, you may be covered under worker's comp regardless of where the injury happened.

It's important to know that you have the burden of proving that the injury is work-related, and our current "shelter in place" mandate definitely makes it less black and white.

But if you are injured while doing your job, whether at home or somewhere else, you have the right to file a worker's comp claim. And if your claim is denied, you should definitely speak to a lawyer.

ATTN: Business Owners!

If your business was impacted by the coronavirus, your commercial insurance policy may be able to help.

Table Talk

Break the ice at the dinner table with these questions:

What is your earliest memory?

Would you rather be bald or covered from head to toe in hair?

What do you think your first job will be?

What is something Mom or Dad always say? Do your best impression.

The Best Breakfast Casserole Ever

from Texas Ties cookbook
via our dear client, Kaitlyn

Ingredients:

- 20 slices white sandwich bread, crusts removed
- 2 cups chopped ham
- 10 ounces shredded cheddar cheese
- 10 ounces shredded Swiss cheese
- 3 cups milk
- 6 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1/2 tsp dry mustard
- 3 cups crushed cornflakes
- 1/2 cup melted butter

(we always add a dash of Tony's and worcestershire, too)

BEST EVER

BREAKFAST CASSEROLE

Layer the bread, ham, and cheeses, 1/2 at a time, in a 9 x 13 baking pan. Combine the milk, eggs, onion salt, and dry mustard in a bowl and mix well. Pour over the prepared layers and chill, covered with foil, for 8-10 hours. Sprinkle with the cornflakes; drizzle with butter. Bake at 375 degrees for 50-60 minutes or until set. Let stand for about 10 minutes before serving.
