

Compassionate counsel, tough advocacy™

The highly respected and accomplished Puget Sound based Personal Injury law firm of Adler Giersch seeks an attorney with the desire to become our next “Rising Star”. This attorney will have been actively practicing law in Washington State for the past 2-5 years, have some trial advocacy experience, and interest in taking those skills to seek justice and fairness for clients. Attorneys from plaintiffs’ injury and defense insurance bars with 2-5 years’ experience are encouraged to apply. Submissions will be confidential.

We are growing and looking to the future. Our candidate will be looking to make the move into an opportunity that seldom comes along: to grow professionally, contribute to the success of a law practice, and be involved in the management of the firm. The candidate will also be mentored by experienced and well-regarded attorneys, practice in a “client-centric” law firm, and get rewarded well for all of it, including a fast-track to partnership. The position requires exceptional oral and written communication skills, the desire to develop into a top-notch trial attorney, and someone with a high emotional intelligence. Candidates should also have excellent organizational and time management skills, and a strong work ethic that is client-focused, team-oriented and driven by a passion for advocacy and excellence.

We started in 1983 and are a successful 5-attorney boutique law firm. Our word-of-mouth practice started over 30 years ago and continues to thrive and grow. Our practice emphasizes moderate and severe trauma injury cases and major matters involving traumatic brain injury. Our cases have resulted in changes to the law that have had wide-sweeping impact.

We have appeared in Seattle Business Magazine’s “Top 100 Companies to Work for in Washington State” for the past five consecutive years, earning the “#1 Small Business to Work For” in 2016 and 2019. This recognition comes from our highly functional, culture-centric and fun work environment. We also offer competitive salary and benefits, performance-based compensation, and opportunities for professional and personal growth.

We are also recognized as a preeminent Northwest law firm by the legal, health care and local communities, and are an AV-rated firm (top 1% in the state). Our experienced attorneys are designated Washington SuperLawyers™, and hold the highest ratings of 10/10 on Avvo.com. We achieve great results and provide top-tier service to our clients.

Ready to make “the move”? Send your cover letter, resume, writing sample, and references to Kristin Cruse, Operations Administrator, Adler Giersch, 333 Taylor Avenue North, Seattle, WA 98109 or send via email to kcruse@adlergiersch.com.