All employees and volunteers of the Washington State Attorney General's Office serve a crucial role in the protection of the state, its people and resources, thereby providing an incomparable degree of job satisfaction. The AGO is composed of diverse, collegial and supremely talented legal professionals who are resolute in their commitment to public service and share the common goal of advancing the public interest. For more information about the AGO, we encourage you to review the Office's Annual Report which can be found HERE and view THIS VIDEO.

Olympia is a beautiful, thriving and affordable community. Living and working here offers unparalleled opportunities to pursue a rewarding career while living in a historically rich and vibrant area. It is ideally situated between the northwest's two largest cities (Seattle and Portland) and exploring either is but a short drive away. If exploring Washington State's natural features is your passion, you will appreciate that hiking, skiing and sailing opportunities are easily accessible. But you needn't stray from home for an adventure, as Olympia offers lush parks and trails, walkable neighborhoods, and exceptional dining, shopping and cultural experiences. Families and individuals will benefit from Olympia's excellent schools, from elementary through college.

DUTIES:

The Corrections Division's Civil Rights Unit is looking for an attorney interested in a fast-paced civil litigation practice. The attorneys in the Civil Rights Unit (not to be confused with the Wing Luke Civil Rights Division) defend the Department of Corrections and its employees in civil rights actions, Public Records Act cases, and personal restraint petitions related to prison conditions. The attorney hired may also advise the Department of Corrections on issues related to prison operations, public records, and civil rights. In addition, attorneys in the Civil Rights Unit assist in prosecuting community supervision violations before the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board. The Civil Rights Unit consists of eleven attorneys located in Olympia and Spokane. The attorney hired for this position will be located in Olympia.

The duties for this position will include:

- drafting pleadings, motions, and briefing in civil matters in state and federal courts, including appeals;
- propounding and responding to written discovery;
- taking and defending depositions;
- appearing in court for motions practice, trials, and appellate arguments;
- working with Community Corrections Officers to prosecute community supervision violations at hearings held inside prisons and jails throughout the State;
- working closely with professional staff to accomplish litigation goals and meet all deadlines;
- working closely with Department of Corrections employees to investigate claims and gather evidence; and
- communicating with incarcerated individuals and opposing counsel about their claims and litigation against the State.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Qualified candidates must have:

- Strong work ethic and can-do attitude;
- Excellent judgment;
- The ability to multitask and independently manage a robust caseload, with appropriate supervision and mentorship;
- Superior communication and analytical skills;
- Extensive knowledge of the state and federal rules of civil procedure;
- Ability to advance legal arguments by writing persuasively, concisely, and respectfully; and
- Commitment to constantly striving for improvement and professional growth, and contributing to the professional growth of colleagues.

The Corrections Division is a collegial office that values the insight and contributions of every employee. Although some litigation experience is helpful, our team has had a lot of success mentoring and training newer attorneys and we welcome applicants of all experience levels who want to work hard and achieve excellent results.

Applicants must have graduated from a law school accredited by the ABA or completed the WSBA's Rule 6 Law Clerk Program and be licensed to practice law in Washington state. The AGO seeks applicants who are committed to public service as demonstrated by an applicant's background, talents, attitude, and enthusiasm for public law practice. The AGO greatly encourages, celebrates and values diversity, appreciating that a workforce composed of those from different backgrounds and experiences creates an inclusive environment, strengthens positive relationships with the local community and brings new perspectives and approaches to fulfill its mission of providing excellent, independent and ethical legal services to the State of Washington and protect the rights of its people.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION:
