Montgomery County’s local economic development organization receives community investment from LBAR

Lexington, KY (December 5, 2019) – Continuing a long-term commitment to healthy communities for central Kentucky homeowners, the Lexington-Bluegrass Association of REALTORS® (LBAR) announced its $2,000 investment in Mt. Sterling-Montgomery County Industrial Authority. Over the past 16 years, LBAR has made available over $550,000 to promote economic development across central Kentucky.

This initiative supports activities directly related to job creation, expansion and retention. A financial investment is available to each local economic development organization within LBAR's 22-county primary service area as a way to fund programs that will promote and build the local economy.

“LBAR is partnering with communities to provide resources, foster regional collaboration and facilitate positive economic results,” said LBAR President Al Blevins. “The support provided to these local organizations will help attract, develop and expand businesses, and ultimately create jobs. Studies show that a strong real estate market is the foundation to a healthy community and this investment is the Association’s dedication to achieving that goal.”

As the region’s leading advocate for homeownership, Lexington-Bluegrass Association of REALTORS® (LBAR) understands the value and joy of owning a home.
