

RECORDED ON THE 2ND
OCTOBER 2019

WEBINAR RECORDING

Content

The escalating difficulties with children's mental health, sexual exploitation and gang culture have led to an increase in the need for children to be placed in secure accommodation. This webinar aims to provide listeners with an update on the case law where local authorities have tried to be innovative in light of the lack of placements. It will also explore the issue of social media on corporate parenting.

Speaker

Che Fung Choi

Che Fung Choi has been a senior editor with Practical Law since September 2014. Before joining Practical Law, he was a solicitor with Higher Rights of Audience, who trained and practised in local authorities specialising in public children law, conducting advocacy at all levels of court including the Court of Appeal.

While in practice, he was appointed as the adoption legal adviser and legal adviser to the Local Safeguarding Children Board.
