Securities Transferred to Compassion Canada

1. Qualifying securities must be publicly-traded, which includes shares, mutual funds, segregated funds, bonds and a few other specific securities.
2. The gift must be given directly to Compassion in the form of securities. Securities that are cashed and then gifted will not be eligible for any preferred capital gains treatment.
3. The fair-market-value of the security will be determined based on the closing market value on the day the transfer is received in Compassion Canada's brokerage account and will be explicitly agreed between RBC Dominion and the donor's broker/agent.
A charitable tax receipt will be issued for the agreed fair-market value (less any deferred service charges or other fees incurred in accepting the gift) and will be mailed once the transaction has completed.
4. Any change in market value of the security (up or down) following the day of transfer is attributed solely to the charity.
