

Pacific Dental Services

IRVINE, CALIFORNIA

Pacific Dental Services (PDS) was experiencing rapid growth, changing technologies and additional staffing requirements which resulted in the need for a larger space. The new office space was designed to meet the current and future needs of the company, the clients they serve, and reflect a fresh direction for the way in which the company works and collaborates. The design approach incorporates internal boulevards, advanced technologies and human comfort.

Progressive office concepts include benching systems, open offices, collaborative and social spaces as well as distinct environmental graphics and branding strategies. Skylights and Solatubes provide natural daylight, while vegetative walls bring exterior landscape indoors for an organic connection to the environment. A subdued color palette contrasts with warm wood ceilings, exposed structure and ducting, as well as polished concrete floors, creating an effect that combines the clinical nature of PDS with the dynamic environment necessary to carry out the corporate vision.

PROJECT DATA

CLIENT

Pacific Dental Services

SERVICES

Architecture, Engineering, Interior Design, Landscape Architecture