LIFE JUST GOT EASIER –AND A LOT

more stylish – for residents in West London with the opening of 271 Platts Lane at Platts Crossing. This impressive modern building features contemporary style and sophisticated finishes, providing numerous suites designed for barrier-free living, in the heart of a desirable neighbourhood.

This new, air-conditioned apartment building offers an exciting opportunity for many West London residents – the rare opportunity to move into a fresh, brand new space, leasing for June 1st occupancy. With upscale finishes and polished details, these suites exude modern luxury and elegance. Kitchens are the showpiece in open-concept layouts, with two-tone full-height cabinetry, stainless steel appliances – including fridge, stove, dishwasher and built-in microwave – pendant lighting and a contemporary goose-neck faucet. Large windows and luxury plank flooring frame the living areas quite tastefully. Upgraded high-density underpad and upgraded carpet make for sweet dreams in the bedrooms. In-suite laundry, a rare find in this market, means the utmost in convenience.

Being barrier free, these suites offer livability and function for everyone. Instead of building the minimum, BlueStone chose to provide 34 suites that offer barrier-free living. These one- and two-bedroom suites accommodate the needs of the differently abled. The building features wider hallways and doorways in all common areas, including the entryway to the well-appointed lobby. Barrier-free suites accommodate for a larger turning radius in the kitchen, family room, bedroom and bathrooms. Step-in showers offer grab bars and seats, accessible bathroom vanities and lowered countertops. Light switches are lowered, and the microwaves are under the counter instead of over-the-range, providing accessibility for those with limited vertical reach. It removes the institutional feel and has no impact on the contemporary modern aesthetics of these suites, re-imagining barrier-free living.

The building has great amenities, including a fully equipped exercise room with state-of-the-art equipment and a resident lounge with fireplace, flat screen TV, comfy seating and a kitchenette for entertaining. The manicured grounds provide outdoor enjoyment including tables and seating with umbrellas, a private terrace and a gazebo overlooking the private resident garden plots.

Residents will also appreciate the additional features of this community, from onsite property management, covered parking and indoor bike storage to controlled access providing security and peace of mind.
