EPA’s Cleaner Trucks Initiative—Program Update

March 17, 2021
MARAMA Mobile Sources Workshop

Brian Nelson
US EPA - Office of Transportation and Air Quality
Update on Major Program Provisions Under Consideration

- Standards and Test Cycles
- In-Use Emission Standards
- Extending the Regulatory Useful Life
- Ensuring Long-Term In-Use Emissions Performance
- Certification and Compliance Streamlining
[Verbal]
Update on Major Program Provisions Under Consideration

- Standards and Test Cycles
  - In-Use Emission Standards
  - Extending the Regulatory Useful Life
  - Ensuring Long-Term In-Use Emissions Performance
  - Certification and Compliance Streamlining
[Verbal] Update on Major Program Provisions Under Consideration

- Standards and Test Cycles
- In-Use Emission Standards
- Extending the Regulatory Useful Life
- Ensuring Long-Term In-Use Emissions Performance
- Certification and Compliance Streamlining
Standards and Test Cycles

In-Use Emission Standards

Extending the Regulatory Useful Life

Ensuring Long-Term In-Use Emissions Performance

Certification and Compliance Streamlining
Update on Major Program Provisions Under Consideration

- Standards and Test Cycles
- In-Use Emission Standards
- Extending the Regulatory Useful Life
- Ensuring Long-Term In-Use Emissions Performance
- Certification and Compliance Streamlining
[Verbal]
Update on Major Program Provisions Under Consideration

- Standards and Test Cycles
- In-Use Emission Standards
- Extending the Regulatory Useful Life
- Ensuring Long-Term In-Use Emissions Performance
- Certification and Compliance Streamlining
For more information or follow-up regarding EPA’s low NOx program, contact:

Brian Nelson

Center Director, Heavy-Duty Onroad and Nonroad Center
Assessment and Standards Division/Office of Transportation and Air Quality
United States Environmental Protection Agency
2000 Traverwood Drive, Ann Arbor MI 48105
734-214-4278
nelson.brian@epa.gov