

My Headstone

Kathleen Russell Ferrell

With Reflection

1. Up - on my head-stone carved in rock there rests the name my bo - dy
2. Be-neath my head-stone bur - ied deep with - in that grave lie the
3. A - bove my head-stone ga - thered to my Fa-ther's arms I part the wore for the days I walked on this earth Up - on my head-stone is in-scribed bones that once moved to car - ry my soul Be-neath my head-stone fold-ed skin veil and re - joice with awe to be hold A - bove my head-stone in the glo -

— the joy-ous date for cel - e bra - ting God's gift of my birth There is a — and scars re-main of life I spent in the work of my Lord Hands that gave
- ry of the Most High Ho - ly God I be - long, I am home And at His dash be - tween the years that I drew breath with - in this world liv - ing to out cups of cold wa - ter to God's chil - dren as they served kneesthat bent throne of ma - jes - ty wear - ing my ra - diant spark - ling robe a - noin - ted praise Je - sus Christ the Ho - ly Lamb! That fi - nal low with the dawn in hum - ble prayer. Flesh that was pure by my Sa - vior I bow down. And as He num - ber marks the mo - ment when my heart ceased to beat and ³ I washed in Je - sus' blood to rise and shine with His love lips that pro - spreads His ro - yal can - o - py u - pon my heart Al - migh - ty stand be - fore the Great I Am! Up - on my head - stone my great ho - claimed His won - d'rous pow'r and care. Be - neath my head - stone sor - rows, strug - God will place my vic - t'ry crown. A - bove my head - stone I will know

211

13

15

18

- nor is en - graved "A Ser - vant of the Lord" Up - on my headstone.
 - gles, tears and fears are left be - hind in the dark Be - neath my headstone.
 the per - fect love of Christ my Lord, King of Kings A - bove my headstone.

