NSSGA YOUNG LEADERS CELEBRATE 25 YEARS

Hollidaysburg, Pa., April 28, 2017 – This year marked the 25th anniversary of the National Stone, Sand and Gravel Association’s Young Leaders committee. All past Young Leaders alumni were invited to attend, and McLanahan CEO was invited to speak on April 22.

Sean has been a member of Young Leaders in the past and Cory Jenson, Vice President of Global Product Management and Development, is currently a member.

Young Leaders provides a forum for young industry members to network, exchange ideas, discuss subjects of interest and see ways to promote the benefits of growth in the industry through education, research, and legislative activities. McLanahan was especially honored by the recognition of Sean McLanahan and his contribution to the organization.
