

CoreMax™

Soil Management

CoreMax™ is the most advanced soil management program in the market. Through the use of highly efficient and cost effective smart sampling methods, CoreMax provides an accurate picture of field variability by selecting the most ideal sampling locations.

Recommendations are made by experienced professionals to address these differences throughout your field and can be easily turned into field-ready controller files in both traditional and variable rate methods.

For these reasons you as a CoreMax user will be able to manage your field in ways not previously possible or available using other systems. CoreMax helps maximize your focus on agronomy so that you can make better decisions for the future.

- ✓ Smart sampling custom fit to your field
- ✓ Multi-Sample nutrient analysis and mapping
