

Mike Minor Risk Manager

Mike Minor believes that the best plans are made based on information and reason, not on emotion. Developing a marketing plan is no different. Professional Ag Marketing will help target revenue, calculate break-even costs and determine coverage, creating comprehensive marketing plans for their clients.

It's said that it's not work if you enjoy it. I bring a producer's insight to grain operations and truly enjoy sharing in our client's success.

“Professional Ag Marketing’s team is unique; we are in the heart of American agriculture, and with our own grain and livestock operations, know what our clients risk everyday. With our help, we develop and execute strategic marketing plans that make great impact on our clients’ organizations and the families that work within their businesses.”
