

Coop Talk

Newsletter Date
March 1 2010

COOP HAS A NEW WEB SITE! DEVELOPED BY AGRICHARTS

March 1st 2010 starts a new year for the Burlington Coop. With the closing of the 2009 year we want to thank everyone for their business. March bring the 100 day sprint until wheat harvest. Yes that's right we are a 100 days from harvest, give or take few days. We are currently trucking grain out of Burlington to assure we have room for the next crop. The bin in Amorita is empty and we will be cleaning and performing maintained on the that facility preparing it for this harvest.

In reviewing this past year it provided some amazing challenges and rewards.

Grain harvest receipts was about seventy percent of average, but for Oklahoma state wide last year this was a great one. With the less than average wheat crop and the declining grain prices, producers delayed their selling and increase our storage income.

This winter's weather patterns provide a challenge in applying wheat top dress fertilizer. We are very fortunate that our applicators have great equipment that can cover a lot of acres and our customers started early.

In finishing this year it looks to be another good one, but until the audit is complete we will just have to wait for the results.

I can not say this enough thank you for your support in making the Burlington Coop Great.

On February the 19th we had our first meeting at the Cherokee Fair grounds on the Risk Management series. Several topics where discussed and we are working on scheduling the next meeting. We need your help in planning the next meeting.

Summer diesel contracts will be priced by March 15th.

We are still holding for a better price. If you have not been contacted by the 15th with a price just us a call.
