Programme	The octagonal sports facilities of the Lahore University of Management Studies include indoor basketball, badminton and squash courts as well as separate gymnasiums for men and women.

Throughout the thousand year history, the personality of the city of Lahore (Pakistan) has been evidenced by its architecture. Its identity today is a rich alluvial pattern of building styles and techniques, reflective of each age in its rich and creative history. The building design for Lahore University of Management Sciences (LUMS) represent a lively continuation of that tradition. LUMS is a privately funded and run University devoted to management and business administration. In the western side of Suleman Dawood School of Business Administration is the Maratib Ali Sports Complex, the octagonal complex of squash courts, male and female gymnasium, offices, stores and an extensive Multi-Purpose Hall winged all around the facility which expressess the discipline and geometry in planning and symbolizes the walled city's image. The total covered area comprises 9,54,358,157 Square Feet.
