Dr. Phallon Doss has successfully secured her place as a leader in hearing healthcare. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from Texas Woman's University, and received her Doctorate of Audiology from the University of North Texas. She has extensive experience in a wide range of audiologic procedures, including diagnostic hearing examinations, hearing aid selection and fitting, electrophysiology, and cochlear implant programming. In addition to running a successfully private practice, she also teaches distance learning audiology courses for the University of Guyana in South America. Dr. Doss is committed to improving her patient's quality of life through restored hearing. The Doss Audiology & Hearing Center team is equipped to identify and treat hearing loss in infant through geriatric patients with the latest hearing technology. In addition to her clinical endeavors, Dr. Doss is also known for her philanthropic work. She hosts community events for children with hearing loss and Doss Audiology's Annual Hear for the Holidays Giveaway provides a free pair of hearing aids for someone in financial need. Most of all, Dr. Doss prides herself on delivering unparalleled service, knowledge, and hearing expertise to the greater San Antonio area.
