From the Midwest to the West Coast and beyond, expansive ranches captivate locals and visitors alike—and, throughout the year, transform into outstanding rustic wedding venues for couples' big days. The appeal of a ranch wedding is obvious: Namely, these beautiful venues provide plenty of space for your wedding ceremony and celebration. Plus, because you'll be surrounded by so much natural beauty, your wedding photos are guaranteed to be next-level.

Whether you and your spouse-to-be are urbanites looking for a rural getaway or countryfolk wanting to wed in your homeland, the perfect venue for your special day on the ranch is within reach. (Depending on where you live, you may just need to head west to your wedding destination.) Here, we've broken down 18 of the best ranch wedding venues nationwide to assist you in the wedding planning process.

Flying Horse Ranch in Larkspur, Colorado

Flying Horse Ranch

Flying Horse Ranch in Colorado's Front Range is a bucolic 1,400-acre cattle and equestrian ranch featuring miles of rolling hills and a 39,000-square-foot indoor riding arena. The greatness of this venue, of course, starts with its landscape and is made better by the 12-hour, all-inclusive event package. You can hold an outdoor ceremony and reception or get married indoors at the barn or the Ranch House. There's also a getting-ready suite with everything you'll need on your big day (a steamer, a mini fridge, multiple vanities) and the Groom's Quarters, an area with enjoyable amenities like a pool table, a poker set, a shuffle board, basketball and back hunter arcade games, and more.

Texas RoadRunner Ranch in Ferris, Texas

Texas RoadRunner Ranch

Head to Ferris, Texas, and you'll find the Texas Roadrunner Ranch. (It's also a short drive from Downtown Dallas.) Even if you're from the area, Texas RoadRunner refers to itself as a destination wedding venue and a romantic getaway. The family-run establishment has all the makings of a lovely ranch wedding venue, such as 100-plus acres of rolling hills, a rustic-chic venue barn, green pastures, a biergarten pavilion perfect for an outdoor wedding under the stars and a "Floating" Veranda fit for a romantic wedding ceremony on an island in the middle of a large pond.

Redwood Ranch in Three Rivers, California

Redwood Ranch

California's Redwood Ranch sits four miles from the southern entrance of Sequoia National Park, close to hiking trails, mountain meadows, sequoia trees and a river. It's a ranch in the wilderness—and a truly enchanting one at that. Here, you'll host a beautiful wedding outdoors, utilizing the ranch's 190 acres as a blank canvas to bring your perfect wedding to life. A cool aspect here is that, rather than acting as an event space, the renovated barn has two units. The upstairs unit features a king bed, a full bathroom, a children's nook, a kitchen and a family room, and the lower unit has three queen bedrooms, a bunk-bed room, a den, two full bathrooms, a kitchen and a game room. You can also camp on the property.

Circle S Ranch & Country Inn in Lawrence, Kansas

Circle S Ranch & Country Inn

Circle S Ranch & Country Inn is located in the Midwest, in Lawrence, Kansas. Saying "I do" here means saying "I do" at a charming pastoral location steeped in history: The venue was established in 1860 and has been a working ranch for six generations. For your wedding day at Circle S, you'll have your choice of outdoor ceremony sites or the indoor wedding chapel, and your reception will take place in the 3,000-square-foot party barn or the Inn's great room. There's also an on-site bed and breakfast for overnight guests. Regarding pricing, Circle S offers three different wedding packages—Modern Ranch, Elegant Country and Rustic Luxury—so you can choose what works best for your needs and vision.

Blame Her Ranch in Ribera, New Mexico

Blame Her Ranch

Forty-five minutes from Santa Fe, you'll find Blame Her Ranch—a luxury ranch with a 7,900-square-foot main lodge home that sleeps up to 24. The gorgeous property is also home to an 18,000-square-foot great lawn that can become the scene of your outdoor wedding. Two other wedding spaces include a 1,750-square-foot converted party barn (it's a lovely rehearsal dinner spot) and a 1,500-square-foot covered gazebo. Back to the main lodge, it's really a knockout feature. Fit with a great room with a 28-foot stone fireplace, a game room, a home theater, an outdoor patio kitchen, a gym, an office and so much more, it's perfect for a family-friendly wedding weekend. Oh, and there's an outdoor pool for even more fun.
