Supplies Needed: charades cards

This game is played just like regular charades...but with a Thanksgiving twist!

Divide your family into two teams (if you have enough to have at least 2 people per team...if not just play as 1 team).

Take turns being the one to act out what's on the card. This person cannot speak, but only act it out. Team members will try to guess what you're acting out. Keep score and see which team wins!
